AFRICAN EVE WELL TO THE FORE.

EXCELLENT GALLOP ON SUNDAY MORNING BY MR. EVE'S DERBY CANDIDATE.

KING'S BOUNTY ALSO DOING WELL.

[By "MORNING DEW."]

To-day my readers will find a very lengthy list of the gallops at Happy Valley "clocked" over the week-end, including yesterday.

Mr. Eve's Derby candidate, African Eve, returned the best time on Sunday, going over the mile and a half in 3 minutes 26.4 seconds. The pony was striding beautifully yesterday, and his finish was very strong indeed. This animal had always been prominent in the public fancy, and yesterday's gallop will bring his many more supporters.

Another very good gallop was that of King's Bounty, who as will be seen finished in 31 seconds at the end of a mile and a half. The pony actually went more than 24 miles, the first three-quarters of which was covered in 1.43. Starting from the mile and half post, the animal ran beautifully, but for some reason stopped dead after three-quarters of a mile. The riding-boy, however, took the animal over the full distance again, and his finish of 31 must therefore be an excellent performance.

The "Hall" stable was also galloped on Sunday, full details of their candidate's performances being given elsewhere.

On Saturday the outstanding feature was the second try-out of Apollo. The animal went over a mile and a quarter, covering the distance in 2.43.2, but the last mile was done in 2.07.2, which is very good indeed. Apollo looks a "cert" for the Champions.

In the Derby class Saturday's figures show Wisdom Stag as being the best performer. Indeed, Wisdom Stag's time is the best in the griffin class over the mile and half. Although the finish was poor, Wisdom Stag was not really pushed, and a long shot at this pony for the Derby would not be injudicious.

Peppercorn also returned the very excellent time of 3.22.2 for the mile and a half, his finish being particularly good, as he was not urged at all. Picallili is steadily returning even quarters of 34 and 35 seconds all the way. The animal has not, so far, been really pushed.

The "Jardine" ponies, to date, have not been given any fast work to do, so that they are really an unknown quantity.

Messrs. Tester & Abraham's The Tiger went over a mile and a quarter, the time for his last mile being given elsewhere. This animal is probably the most talked-of pony on the course, and is certainly a nice mover.

I understand one of the best animals in the Dynasty's stable King-at-Arms, has gone lame. In view of King's Bounty's excellent gallop, the pony will not be much missed, but as there is a good three weeks between now and the first day of the annual meeting, there is every possibility of King-at-Arms facing the starter after all. King-at-Arms is one of the best Derby griffins going, and it will be a pity indeed if he is not fit to race.

Another good pony which is laying-up for the time being is Ilya Mouronitz. He was not galloped over the week-end, and it is to be hoped that he is quite sound and fit, as he is certainly one of the best ponies, and a real rival to Sitting Bull and Apollo.

Among the old ponies clocked were Adam, Royal Flush (Jardine's), President Hall and Majestic Hall (Ho Kom Tong's), Sitting Bull (Dunbar's), Boxing Eve (Eve's), Young Pretender, King's Courier and King's Consul (Dynasty's), Apollo (Chan Tin Sion's) and Chesapeake Bay (H. S. Chan's). Out of this lot readers should find, not only the winner of the championships, but also winners of the Foochow and Challenge Cups, and some of the other principal races.

Peashop, I understand, is absolutely off-colour, and can hardly run, so that he must be struck off from the list of the season's best subs. Grenadier, another very good animal, is also out of sorts at the moment.

Games and Sports

Wear

at Mackintosh's

THE mere act of changing from your working to your 'games' kit is in itself a tonic—provided your out-of-doors wear is exactly suited, in material and fashioning, for its specific use.

The Sports wear we show you comes from London—made to our specifications, so that it is precisely fitted for the conditions and the climate we experience.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUR GAMES KIT:

Tennis and Sports Shirts in

White and Cream Cotton

White and Cream Taffeta

Wool Taffeta: Twill Flannel

Pullover and Coat Style Sweaters

HUMOUR: ANCIENT AND MODERN.

"Why do you always address the letter carrier as professor?"
"It's a sort of honorary title. I'm taking a course by mail."

Two tinkly fellows walked along while on their way from town, and all their conversation was "Do things burn up or down?"

Neighbour: "How many controls are on your radio set?"
Owner: "Three: my mother-in-law, my wife, and my daughter."

Jazz: "Why are all the bands playing?"
Razz: "It is a demonstration in the interests of noise suppression."

But men are vain and cannot quit without another try; They cannot rest on laurels great though they be perched on high.

Mrs. Mosquito: "Where is your daughter?"
Mrs. Housely: "She just went to the front door for a screen test."

The captain wooed a tiny lass who weighed but ninety-two; And now she's skipper and first mate while he is just the crew.

"Let me through the fire lines, officer. I'm a reporter."
"That makes no difference. You can read all about the details in to-morrow's newspapers."

"Six feet in his boots!" exclaimed Mrs. Flatt.
"Yes," said Mr. Flatt.
"Nonsense! Why, they might as well tell me that the man had six heads in his hat!"

A sailor sailed the seven seas, A bright young chap was he; He won promotion right and left because of industry. From port to port he won the day, He rose with every trip, Until he got the topmost job As skipper of the ship.

Mrs. Brindle: "Now, Mary, I want you to be careful. This is some very old table linen—been in the family for more than 200 years, and—"

Mary: "Ah! Sure, ma'am, you needn't worry. I won't tell anyone, and it looks as good as new, anyway."

Junior: "Mamma, is there anything about the house that you want me to do?"
Mamma (aside): "Well! well! Is Christmas that close?"

Motorist: "I'm afraid I have killed your cat. But don't worry, I shall replace the animal."
Cottager: "But will you be able to catch the mice all right?"

Mrs. Brown: "I don't like these photographs. They don't do me justice."
Photographer: "Justice! What you want, madam, is mercy!"

"Can you direct me to an easy path for climbing the hills?" enquired a lady visitor.
"I can," a native replied, indicating a nearby slope, adding "all the donkeys go that way."

Tramp: "Have you a piece of cake, lady, to give a poor man who hasn't had a bite for two days?"
"Cake? Isn't bread good enough for you?"

"Ordinarily, yes, ma'am, but this is my birthday."

Parson: "How did you get that black eye, Mrs. Higgins?"
Mrs. Higgins: "Well, sir, me husband came out of prison on 'is birthday."
"Yes."
"And I wished 'im many 'appy returns!"

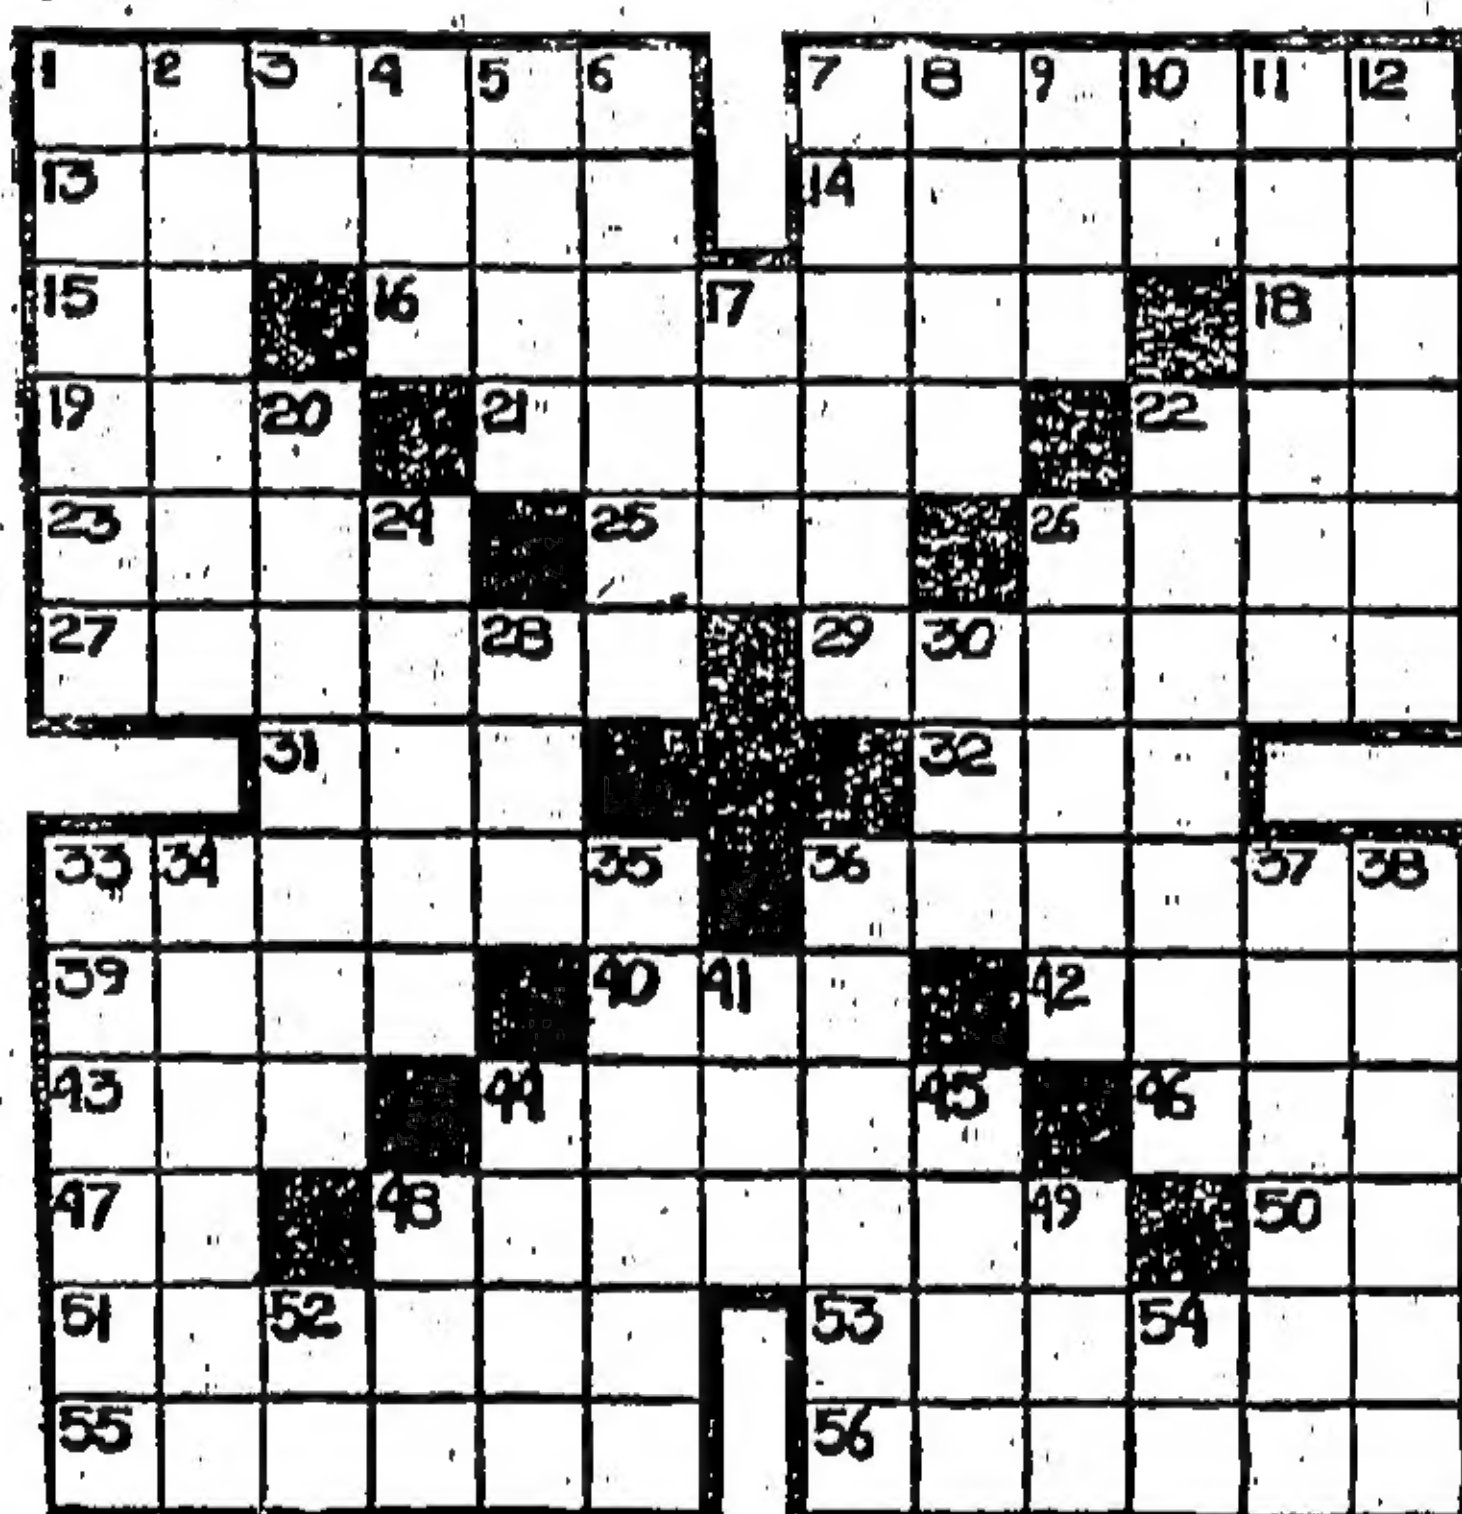

A tradesman advertised for a smart young lady for his counter. "Have you any references?" he asked of an applicant.

"Yes, sir, a lot of 'em."
"Then why didn't you bring them with you?"
"They're just like my photographs, sir. None of 'em does me justice."

The village choir boys had decided to form a cricket team, and appointed their junior member honorary secretary.

In due course the youngster appealed to the curate for support. "This is how his letter ended: 'And we should be very pleased, sir, if you would allow us the use of the bats which the choir men say you have in the belfry.'"

WHAT JAPANESE LIKE TO READ.

Foreign News.

In the field of general foreign news interest has centered in the preparation for and the proceedings of the Five Power Conference on naval limitations in London. The ordinary man in the street in Japan, however, is willing to admit he reads little more than the headlines. He knows the Empire is seeking a 10-10-7 ratio, but he is not exactly sure what the ratio is about or exactly why his country wants it. Japanese newspapers as a whole are small and can print only a limited volume of news. Foreign news often is omitted when the paper is "light." The news value of any foreign telegram is its interest. If the Japanese editor figures it will interest his readers he prints it. If not, he is very likely to omit it. Morning editions of the big Tokyo and Osaka dailies run from 12 to 16 pages on an average, with 50 per cent. or more advertising. It is obvious that no great space is available for foreign telegrams. The newspapers all buy the full United Press foreign service. (Continued on next column.)

EAT SWEETS AND GROW THIN.

CHOCOLATE CURE FOR WEAK HEARTS.

Eat more chocolate and grow thin. That is the latest advice of the doctors.

"Investigations conducted by a German heart specialist for 23 years" said a Harley Street

vic, however, and demand the most thorough coverage on big news events, such as the Five Power Conference.

Commercial and economic news is handled in Japanese newspapers must as in those of the United States. Its reader-interest, however, is much less because of the fact only a very small percentage of the people have money to invest or with which to speculate. The big break in prices on American exchanges late in 1929 was not considered an especially big story by Japanese editors, largely because they know most of their readers knew very little about the New York Stock Exchange and likely cared less.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER.

HAVE YOU HAIR TROUBLES?

[By A HAIR SPECIALIST.]

People seldom realize that the hair is a plant, and that, like every other plant, it needs plenty of sunshine and fresh air to stimulate its growth and protect it from decay. Primitive races enjoy beautiful and thick hair because they are not sufficiently civilized to wear hats.

Since fashion does not permit us to walk about with our heads uncovered, our hats must be light and porous, so as to admit the air. The rim must not be tight, or press upon the scalp. A tight rim interferes with the circulation of the blood, prevents the feeding of the hair, and causes baldness.

Regular brushing and combing stimulate the circulation of blood in the scalp, help to remove dead scales, and improve the vigour of the hair.

A shampoo serves to keep the hair clean and free from dandruff. Its frequency depends on circumstances. Shampooing like brushing, removes loose hair, dead dry scales and stale oil, stimulates the scalp, and is a means of preserving as well as restoring hair after temporary falling out.

There are some instances when a shampoo once a month suffices, but in cases where the head is exposed to dust, a shampoo once a week is not excessive, and where scales form, a shampoo every other day is necessary.

We shall not need hair tonics if we attend to the hygiene of the scalp.

The skin of the head is kept moist by an oily secretion. A lack of this secretion causes the head to become dry and scaly. If the head is washed with soap too often, this secretion is removed, and the scalp becomes scaly. If the head is dry it is well to rub a little vaseline or olive oil into the roots of the hair.

There is no standard treatment for the hair. Premature loss of hair may be due to hereditary causes, to diseases, such as influenza, typhus, anemia, or to general debility. It may also be due to a purely skin affection. Each case must be properly diagnosed, and the complaint then treated according to indications.

VOGUE OF THE TINTED CEILING.

Let me commend to your thoughtful attention that much-neglected surface in your room—the ceiling. You have settled on the colour for the walls; you have chosen the curtain material; your floor, after much discussion, will be covered as you wish, but when some one mentions the ceiling you answer, "Oh, the usual white, I suppose."

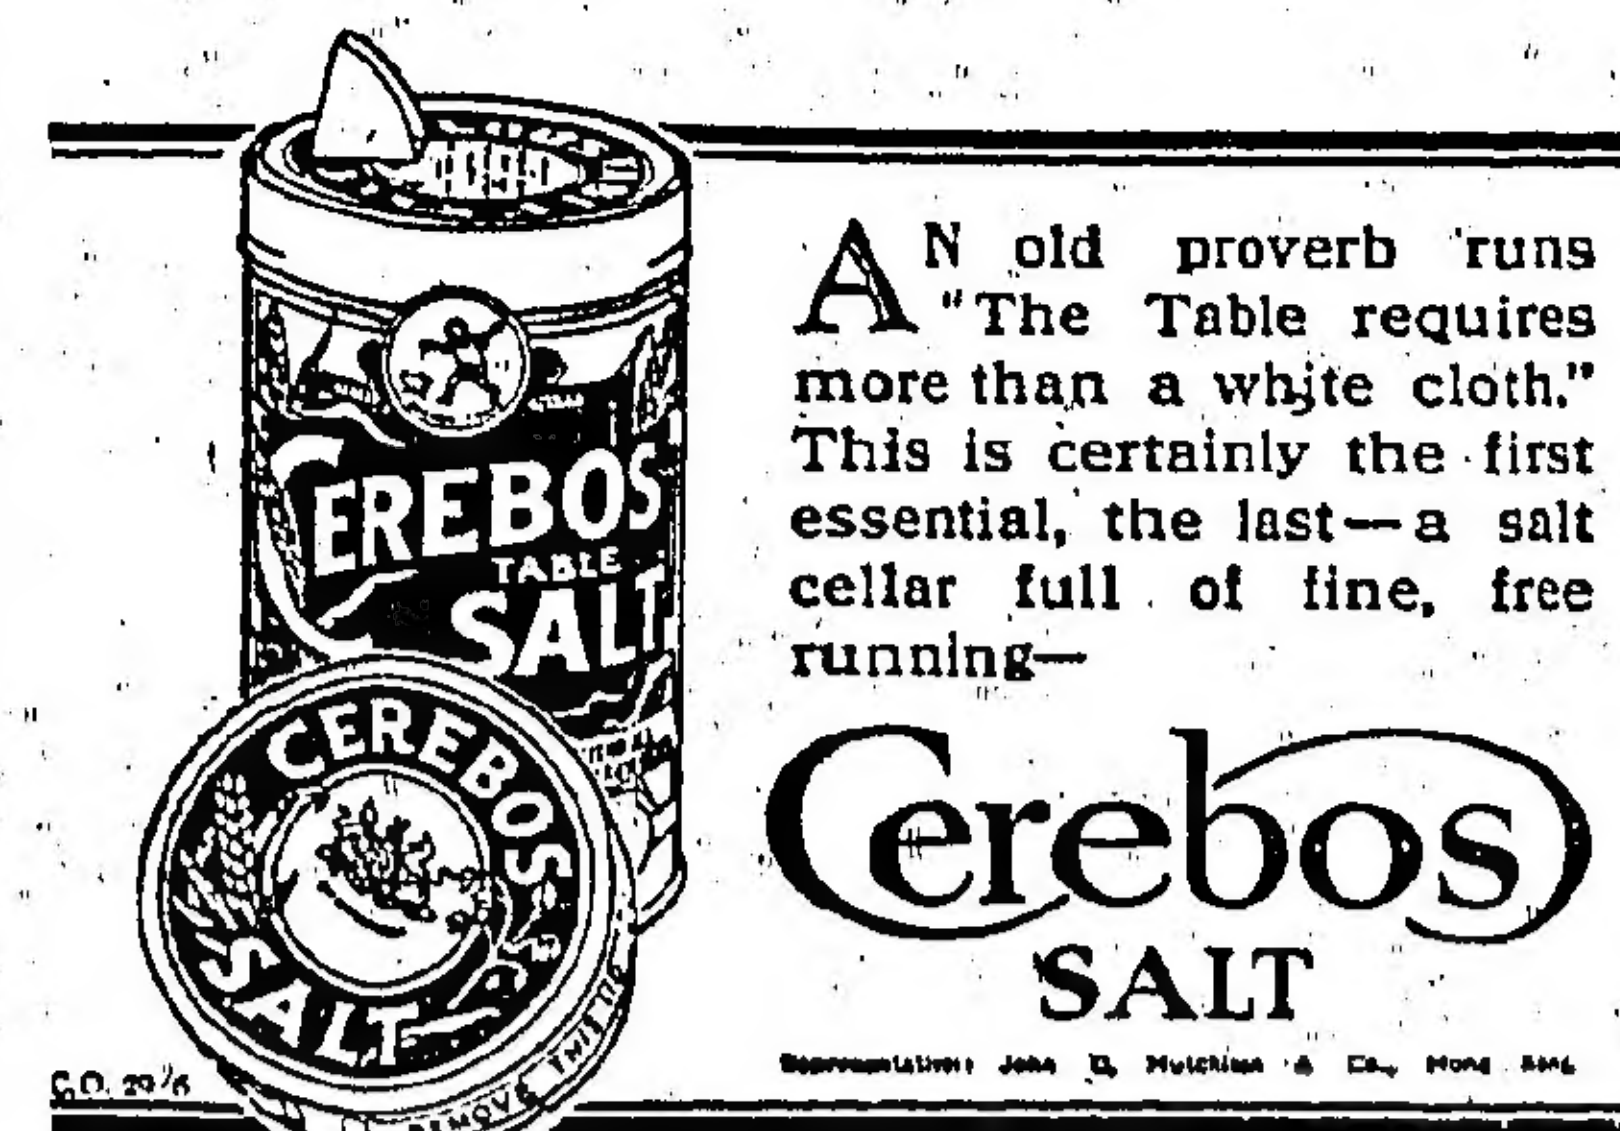

Your decorator only too willingly obeys, and your room becomes just "pleasant"—and it came so near to being a masterpiece.

There are several reasons for the comparative neglect of the ceiling these days. We rarely notice it, for it is above our heads, and we take it as a necessary "top" to the room. Indeed, what is there to look at?

A broad white matt surface, possibly with a pendant light fitting in the middle, which you were forced to buy from the previous occupant at an exorbitant price, and some very inferior moulding which was designed by some jerry-builder who had never simplicity.

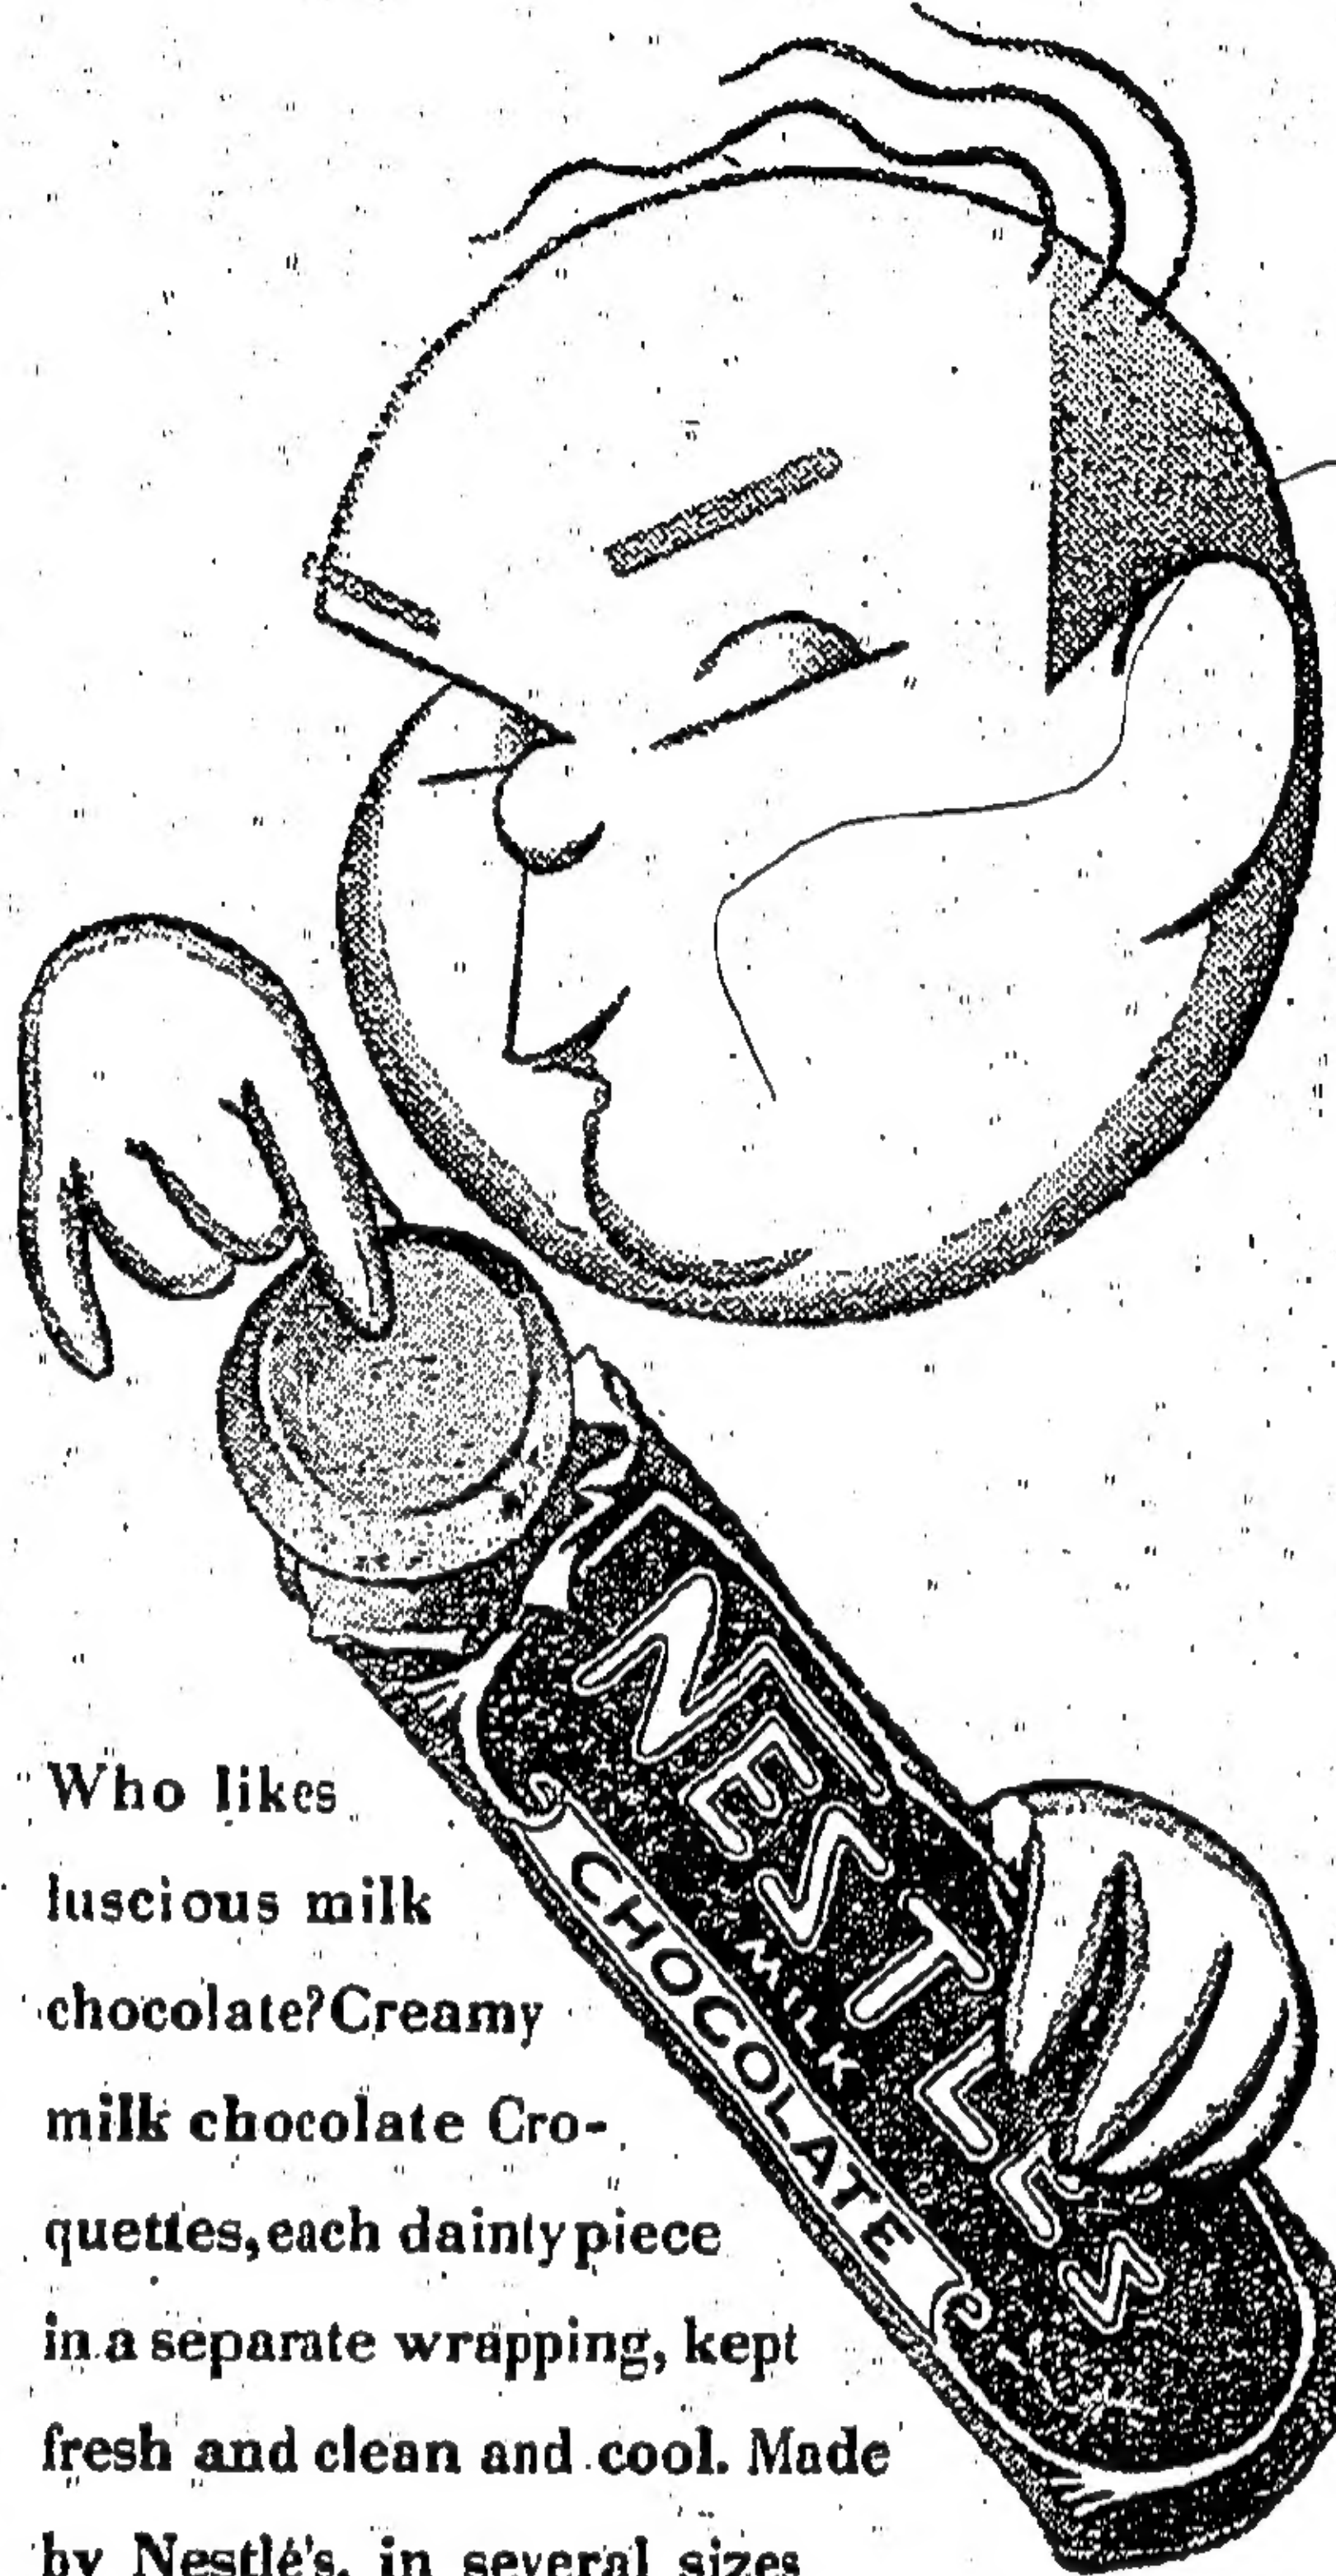

Colour Harmony.

Suppose, for instance, you have a room whose walls have been discoloured in a tone of blue; unless you have been very fortunate or exceptionally clever, whatever the colour of the woodwork, the room will be very cold indeed with a white ceiling. It will be staring, and against your will you will be conscious of that blank surface above you. Get in your decorator, and, whether he likes it or not, make him colour the ceiling a soft warm yellow or eau-de-nil according to the other colours you have in the room.

An old proverb runs "The Table requires more than a white cloth." This is certainly the first essential, the last—a salt cellar full of fine, free running—

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

ENGLISH LEAGUE CHAMPIONS DRAW AT HOME.

KILMARNOCK ELIMINATED IN SCOTTISH CUP.

IRELAND'S SWEEPING VICTORY.

Leaders in the First and Second Divisions of the English League met strong opposition on Saturday. Sheffield Wednesday, at home, were forced to a draw by the "United" team. Oldham went over to Millwall and lost the points on an odd goal.

Third Division teams were responsible for some heavy scoring. Brighton gathered eight goals in a total of ten on their visit to Merthyr. Accrington scored seven goals to one when they received Halifax, while Darlington also netted seven goals at home as against two by Tranmere. Leaders in both sections annexed the points.

Kilmarnock, the Scottish Cup-holders, were eliminated by Hamilton in the second round of the series. Four matches were drawn, and among them were the Rangers who were at home to Queen of South.

Results of matches as cabled by Reuter, including a description of the international meeting in Ireland are appended.

INTERNATIONAL MATCH.

IRELAND BEATS WALES BY SEVEN GOALS.

The fourth international soccer match of the season played at Belfast, to-day resulted in Ireland beating Wales by seven goals to nil. This was the third successive defeat for Wales, while Ireland made up for their downfall at home in their initial match with England.

Ireland were unable to field a representative side owing to the players being claimed by the English and Scottish Clubs. Nevertheless their team outclassed the Welsh representatives.

Bambrick, of Linfield, the centre-forward, scored six goals in succession, which is probably an international record. In the last minute of the game McCluggage added the seventh goal.

Ireland have now won 15 matches, Wales 19, drawn 10. Ireland 79 goals, Wales 103 goals.

The international table for the season stands as under:-

	P.	W.	D.	L.	F.	A.	Pts.
England	2	2	0	0	9	0	4
Scotland	1	0	0	4	2	2	0

TRAINERS WIN A TEST APPEAL.

REDUCED ASSESSMENT ON "GALLOPS."

A decision of great importance to racehorse owners and trainers was given by Lord Justice Warrington at Marlborough Wilts, last month, when he allowed the appeal of Messrs. Tattersalls, with costs, against the assessment of certain gallops at Manton.

It was contended by Messrs. Tattersalls that the gallops, which were assessed by the Marlborough Assessment Committee at £200, were not defined gallops in the accepted sense of the term, but were agricultural land, and Lord Warrington upheld this view.

The case for the assessment committee was that the land covered by the gallops showed signs of having been specially prepared for the training of horses, and was better cultivated than the land adjoining.

Revalued.

After a long legal duel between opposing counsel, Lord Warrington directed that the assessment of £200 must be deleted from the valuation list, and that the assessment on 437 acres comprised in the racing establishment should be revalued on a higher scale to take account of the estates at an agreed figure. Messrs. Tattersalls had previously intimated agreement with the idea of assessment on a higher scale, if successful in their appeal.

Mrs. Hartigan, who appealed with regard to the assessment of gallops at Osbourne, also succeeded in her appeal.

Lord Warrington directed that owing to the different circumstances in this case, the enhanced value of the gallops should not be added, while the assessment on the house and other buildings should be reduced from £200 to £273.

The gallops should be assessed afresh and entered separately. It was stated that these appeals were practically the first cases of the kind to be brought up for legal argument.

INTERPORT SOCCER.

HONG KONG DEFEATED IN SHANGHAI.

RODGER AND REEVES DO WELL FOR LOCAL SIDE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1.

The weather was bright and sunny and ground conditions perfect when the Hong Kong and Shanghai teams took the field in the Interport Soccer match this afternoon. There were close on five thousand spectators present and the teams were given a rousing welcome. Shanghai won by 5 goals to 2.

The first half was fairly evenly contested, both goals having narrow escapes. Snook, the Shanghai goalie, and Rodger, the Hong Kong man, both brought off some fine saves. The Hong Kong forwards displayed better combination but they found the Shanghai halves very strong.

After play had been in progress for some ten minutes, Doggerell opened the scoring for Shanghai amid loud cheers. Then followed a scramble outside the home goal during which Hong Kong almost equalised. The home defence cleared and their forwards again pressed. Just before the interval, Snook netted to give the home team a lead of 2 goals to 0.

Hong Kong Fall Off.

On resumption, the Hong Kong forwards fell off very badly and played like a beaten team. Sinclair, the Shanghai inside-right, put in two goals in rapid succession to increase the home lead to 4-0. The visitors improved towards the end and with Stokes handling inside the penalty area, Reeves made no mistake with the spot kick and sent in a hard drive to make the score 4-1 against his side.

The Shanghai forwards made yet another rush at the Hong Kong goal with the result that Sinclair put in his third goal. Just before the final whistle went A. Gosano scored from a beautiful centre, making the final score as given above.

Rodger and Reeves Play Well.

Rodger and Reeves played a great game for Hong Kong but the forwards were uncertain and frequently hesitated when in front of the goal. On the day's play, Shanghai was decidedly the better team.

The probable eleven were listed as follows in an earlier article:-

Shanghai:—Snook (Wilts. Regt); Stokes, (S.F.C.), Marcel (P.S.A.); Pote Hunt (S.F.C.), Costa (P.S.A.), Duffy (Police); Faracho (S.F.C.), Sinclair (S.F.C.), Snook (Wilts.), Doggerell (Wilts.) and Turner (Police).

Hong Kong:—Rodger (Club); Reeves (Borderers), Pile (Kowloon); Hedley (Kowloon), West (Somerset), McGreavy (Police); B. Gosano, A. Gosano (Recreio), Goldman (Club), Scott (Club) and Butcher (Somerset).

DEATH OF MRS. M. HODGE.

MEMORIES OF SAILING SHIP DAYS IN SINGAPORE.

Singapore lost one of its last links with the sailing ship era of its history when Mrs. Marion Elizabeth Hodge died at Glenageary, Evelyn Road, last week, in her 74th year.

The Straits Times says that Mrs. Hodge was widow of Capt. Hodge, who died in 1912, having been in the East for 48 years with only two spells of home leave. A former master of sailing ships, he was manager of the sailing ship department of Macalister & Co. at the time of his death.

Mrs. Hodge had been ailing for some years and a slight stroke a few days ago accelerated her end. The funeral took place at Biddadi Cemetery and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. The Rev. W. Murray and Rev. Stephen Band officiated. The deceased leaves several sons and daughters to mourn her loss.

EX-KAISER'S BIRTHDAY.

CELEBRATES HIS 71ST BIRTHDAY.

According to advices from Doorn, on January 27, the ex-Kaiser passed his seventy-first birthday quietly amidst the members of his family, including the ex-Crown Prince and his brothers. In the evening, a few guests dined with the ex-Kaiser and his family.

Political quarters point out that this is the first birthday which the ex-Kaiser is passing in voluntary exile since the repeal of the law for the protection of the Republic last summer allowed him to return to Germany to live there. The lack of enthusiasm, however, shown generally in Germany at the prospect of seeing the ex-Kaiser return to Germany, may have prompted him to remain at Doorn.

FARCICAL VICTORY FOR CARNERA.

GIGANTIC ITALIAN BEATS PETERSON IN ONE ROUND.

[United Press.]

New York, Jan. 24.

Before 20,000 screaming and laughing spectators, Primo Carnera, the Italian heavyweight, who is by far the biggest and most colourful boxer to enter the United States in many a month, knocked out "Big Boy" Peterson in the first round of what was to be a 10-round battle here to-night. It was the giant Italian's debut before a New York crowd and it proved a complete success from both fight and comedy standpoints, though far from a real fight.

The Italian floored Peterson for a count of two, then flattened him again for a count of eight, and put him down a third time for a short count. Finally, the club-like right of Carnera crashed Peterson down for the knock-out, one minute and 10 seconds after the beginning of the affair. As a battle, it was even a greater farce than was anticipated by gamblers who made the visitor a 3-1 favourite yesterday.

Carnera pirouetted about the ring as lightly as a ballet dancer. He rained blows all over Peterson from his height of six feet eight inches, three inches taller than Campolo and eight more than Jack Sharkey. Carnera weighed in at about 250 lbs., almost 40 lbs. more than Campolo, who has been looked upon as the biggest present figure, from a physical standpoint, in the ring to-day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.

Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight whose 250 lbs., 6 feet 8 in. frame is regarded as one of the most attractive box-office assets to land on American shores for some time, arrived here to-day in readiness for a battle with Eliezer Riuux on Friday.

Fields Beats Dundee.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.

Jackie Fields, the welterweight world champion, gained a decision over Vince Dundee in 10 rounds here to-night. Dundee won the first two rounds with a furious rush of fighting, but he was over-confident and, when he ran into Field's heavy right cross, in the third round, he went to the canvas for the first of what proved to be four times down. The challenger was unable to overcome the lead built up by these knock-downs.

Protest Not Upheld.

Boston, Jan. 24.

Jim Maloney of Boston, a heavyweight, knocked out Armand Emanuel in the second round of a scheduled 10-round fight here to-night. Emanuel's seconds protested, claiming that a foul had been committed, but their claim was not upheld.

U.S. CIVIL SERVANTS CARD INDEXED.

SENSATIONAL DISCLOSURES IN THE WASHINGTON "POST."

[United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

Following the publication of a copyrighted article in the Washington Post, reproducing an alleged White House card index survey of information concerning all appointed federal employees, Mr. J. J. Shouse, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, alleged to-day that this index constituted a menace to the whole American civil service system.

Mr. Shouse declared that it would place the records of 10,000 minor employees in the hands of President Hoover's "political agent," former Congressman Newton.

Many believe that this may be made an issue in the autumn congressional elections.

INTERNATIONAL BANK OF REPARATIONS.

ADMINISTRATION OF BASLE AND TAXATION EXEMPTION.

[United Press.]

Basle, Jan. 25.

The proposed exemption from taxation of the International Bank of Reparations shortly to be established here has led to a query by the combined Socialist and Communist parties being put before the council of the Canton of Basle. The cantonal administration has, therefore, asked the Council for a vote of confidence, failing which it has threatened to resign.

The paper "Basler Nachrichten," in commenting on this action points out that this is the first time in Swiss history that the administrative body of a Swiss canton has considered it expedient to obtain a vote of confidence from the Council as a condition to remain in office.

ALASKAN AIR DISASTER.

SOVIET FLYER DOUBTS REPORTS.

[United Press.]

Moscow, Jan. 27.

Sergei Kamanev, head of the Soviet Arctic Mission, said to-day in an article published in the official organ Izvestia that he doubted if the aeroplane wreckage sighted by aviators near Cape North was actually that of Carl Ben Eielson's plane.

He said that the searchers may have seen the wreckage of the aeroplane Soviet North, which crashed in that vicinity in the summer of 1925.

Reports indicated that the two men who saw the wreckage sighted it from the air and could not make a close inspection, although other flyers and dog trains which have been hunting for Eielson's plane for many weeks have now started for the spot to conduct a first-hand inspection.

NOME, ALA., Jan. 27.

Little credence was given here to-day to the Izvestia article published in Moscow declaring that the wrecked aeroplane sighted near Cape North is not that of Carl Ben Eielson.

Crosson and Gillam, the pilots who sighted the wreckage, knew all the marks of Eielson's plane and they felt positive they had recognized the craft.

Hope is still felt that the lost flyers may be at some isolated trader's cabin, having walked there after the crash. Searchers have virtually determined that they could not have been trapped in the wreckage, since the heavy parts of the plane did not sink in deep snow and it is not believed that the bodies could have been buried.

THEORY OF ACCIDENT.

New York, Jan. 27.

A message from the Arctic fliers Crosson and Gillam, received by radio here to-day, said that they had returned to the ice-bound ship Nanuk after taking four men to the wreck of the aeroplane believed to have been that of Carl Ben Eielson.

The men are to clear away the snow surrounding the found machine. Crosson and Gillam will return to the wreckage to-morrow.

It is the opinion of both fliers that Eielson's aeroplane struck the tundra at flying speed, perhaps due to fog and loss of altitude which the pilot did not detect. The throttle of the wrecked aeroplane was wide open and the propeller was wrapped around the engine.

RUSSIA AND MEXICO.

SEVERANCE OF RELATIONS DECLARED UNJUSTIFIED.

[United Press.]

Mexico City, Jan. 24.

The Soviet Ambassador will be handed his passports in the near future as a result of the Foreign Office's action yesterday in severing diplomatic relations with Moscow because of communistic demonstrations, allegedly Moscow-inspired, before several Mexican Legations, it was learned here to-day.

Officials of the Foreign Office said that the Ambassador will not be received in the event of his calling there.

It is probable that the German Embassy will be requested to act as intermediary should further contact with Moscow be found necessary.

Moscow, Jan. 24.

The Soviet Foreign Office to-day professed great astonishment at the reported action by Mexico in severing diplomatic relations.

It was declared that charges by the Mexican authorities, to the effect that Moscow had inspired communistic demonstrations against several Mexican Legations in various capitals, were wholly without foundation in fact.

CATHOLICS & PROHIBITION.

"DRY" BISHOP'S CRITICISMS.

[United Press.]

Washington, Jan. 24.

Bishop James Cannon Jr., famed "dry" leader, departed to-day for his new diocese in Africa.

In a farewell interview Bishop Cannon blamed what he termed "the Twentieth Century whisky rebellion" upon the Roman Catholic church and the influence of society leaders, giving a partial share to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and well known as an opponent of the national prohibition law.

He quoted recent anti-prohibition statements by Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and Archbishop Curley of Baltimore.

"Such denunciations by Catholic leaders," said Bishop Cannon, "are directly in line with the attitude of the Observatore Romano and also with the bitter attack upon prohibition and President Hoover by Dr. John A. Ryan, director of the Catholic Welfare Organization."

Bishop Cannon is affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal Church.

CRAIGENGOWER BEATEN

POLICE RUN UP BIG TOTAL

The sunny weather on Saturday was very welcome after the dull spell experienced during the past week or so, and though it was rather on the warm side earlier on in the afternoon, conditions for cricket was as good as could be desired on the whole.

At Happy Valley, the Craigen-gower Cricket Club met their Waterloo in the Kowloon C.C. who scored a 9-wicket victory over their hosts. The other league match played in the senior division was that between the Indian Recreation Club and the Civil Service Cricket Club and the "annual draw" resulted.

In the second division the Police Recreation ran up the huge total of 222 runs for 5 wickets declared against the R.A.O.C. and the University lads failed to make a showing against the Cricket Club juniors. C.S.C.C. seconds did well to account for the Engineers in spite of the fact that they were playing one man short.

LEAGUE—DIVISION I.

I.R.C. v. C.S.C.C.

This game was played at Sookun-poo, and, winning the toss, the home skipper elected to bat. They started none too well, however, but Rumjahn (30), A. R. Minu (22) and O. Ismail (20) helped to compile the respectable total of 154. The Happy Valley team tried no less than six bowlers, amongst whom the wickets were fairly evenly distributed.

de Rome and Richardson gave the C.S.C.C. a good start and at one time it looked as if they were going to force a win. Then a few wickets fell rapidly and they were left for 7 when stumps were drawn.

For the Indians Rumjahn took 2 wickets for 14 and Irani 2 for 17.

C.C.C. v. K.C.C.

Craigengower Cricket Club disappointed their supporters when they failed dismally against the Kowloon Cricket Club at Happy Valley on Saturday. They took first knock, but against the bowling of Brace (5 for 19) and Ross (4 for 30), they could not gather more than 59 runs. Omar (14) and Lim (13) were their only batsmen to run into double figures.

Faced with this small total, the Kowloon men had no difficulty in knocking up the required runs and passed their opponents' score after only 1 wicket had fallen. "Teddy" Fincher just helped himself to the bowling and made 66 before he put his leg in front of a straight run from Abbas. E. F. Fincher contributed 30.

Of the seven bowlers tried by the home team only Abbas (4 for 18) met with any success.

DIVISION II.

POLICE v. R.A.O.C.

Running up the huge total of 222 runs for 5 wickets declared, the Police scored a convincing victory over the R.A.O.C. at Happy Valley on Saturday.

The home team batted first and Meadows and Hunter gave them an excellent start. Meadows made 85 runs and Hunter 71, and they were not parted until after the hundred was up. King made a rapid 30 not out and Alexander 20. The bowling of the soldiers was severely punished and Morgan, sending 17 overs, took 3 wickets for 70 runs.

When the visitors went in to bat, it was just one sorry procession for B. G. Baker, was in irresistible form with the ball and captured 8 wickets for only 11 runs. Vigus was the top scorer for the soldiers with 15 runs, and he was, incidentally, the only man to run into double figures.

C.S.C.C. v. R.E. & S.

The Civil Service Cricket Club juniors did well to take full points from the R.E. and S. when these teams met at Happy Valley on Saturday. The soldiers batted first but could only compile 72 runs. Mitchell was top scorer with 22, while Harrison, going in late, made a useful dozen. For the Civil servants, Randle took 5 wickets for 30 runs and Edmonds 4 for 23.

The home team passed their opponents' total after six wickets had fallen, and then went on to make 130 for 9—the last man being absent. Davies was highest scorer with 33 and Paterson was next with 32. Skinner took 4 wickets for 23 runs for the soldiers and Deavell took 2 for 12.

H.K.C.C. v. UNIVERSITY.

On the H.K.C.C. ground, the University second string failed to put up a fight and lost to the Club juniors by 5 wickets.

The visitors had first innings, but against some consistent bowling by Harris-Walker (3 for 6), Ashworth (3 for 17) and Divett (2 for 20) were all out for the poor score of 64. C. E. Yeoh (18) and Candah (17) made a gallant effort to pull the game round but they received no support from the rest of the team.

A. C. Beck, fresh from his experiences in one of the local "big" matches—the Club-United Services affair—carried his bat for 83 runs while Gahagan made 32 and Stanesby 22.

GERMAN DOCTOR
CONVICTED.CANTON COURT'S SENTENCE.CHINESE COLLEAGUE ALSO PUNISHED.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, Feb. 2.

"One year's imprisonment and three years on probation" was the sentence passed on Dr. Breitlander by Mr. Cheng Shing Yan, Judge of the Canton Criminal Court, last Thursday afternoon in connection with charges arising out of his post mortem examination of the body of Wong Tak Long, at the Canton Sanatorium during the early part of last month. The sentence imposed on Dr. Liang Pooi Ki, manager of the Sanatorium, who was charged with complicity in the illegal operation, was even more severe, being a deprivation of all the rights and privileges of Chinese citizenship for a period of five years in addition to the punishment pronounced on the German doctor. The verdict came after three protracted hearings lasting over five hours each. The closing session was held on Chinese New Year Day.

Both Doctors Breitlander and Liang Ki are out on bail. In an interview with the writer Dr. Breitlander said he was not satisfied with the verdict and will carry his case to a higher court. Dr. Tsin Shue Fun, the well known Canton lawyer, is helping him and Dr. Breitlander, being a foreigner, enjoys this right of appeal to a higher court. Dr. Liang Pooi Ki, now a man without a country, has no such privileges, and has to accept the sentence. Dr. Liang is at present in Hong Kong, but will return to Canton to serve his sentence when summoned. After his imprisonment is up, he will be placed on probation for the next three years, during which period he may be summoned to court to be retried at any time if deemed necessary. No attempt will be made to imprison Dr. Breitlander until his case has been fought in the Higher Court.

In passing its sentence on Dr. Liang Pooi Ki, the Court remarked that they both were guilty of mutilating and stealing parts of a human body. The Court also ordered that all the parts of the body thus taken and kept in a glass jar in the College of Medicine of Sun Yat Sen University be returned to Mr. Wong Tak Kwong, the complainant.

During the proceedings Dr. Breitlander denied the charge, maintaining that the post mortem examination was a case of absolute necessity. Dr. Liang Pooi Ki, he said, agreed to this and gave assent. Both the accused said repeatedly that no ulterior motive was entertained in any shape or form in the autopsy. It was done in the interest of the inmates of the institution and for the advancement of medical science. Dr. Tsin Shue Fun, who defended Dr. Breitlander, said that even the Court held that there was a proper reason for the post mortem examination. He failed to see why his client should be convicted.

CANTON AVIATION SCHOOL.

STUDENTS STRIKE.

According to the vernacular Press, the students of the Canton Aviation School have declared another strike as a protest against the dismissal of the principal, the dean and other officers of the School.

Over ninety students left the School on Chinese New Year when they motored throughout the city distributing circulars. It is stated in the circular that since General Chang Wai Cheung assumed the post as head of the School, ninety per cent. of the teaching staff have resigned, with the result that the School has been declining. For this reason, they demanded the reinstatement of the dismissed staff and the release of the detained students.

In conclusion, the students alleged that they have been ill-treated by their new Principal and asked the public to render assistance.

It is understood that the strikers have been incited by their former headmaster, Colonel Chow Po Hing, who defrayed the expenses of the strike. Over sixty students are attending class as usual.

THE WUCHOW
ARMIES.ANOTHER COMPROMISE LIKELY.

According to the vernacular Press, a compromise between the Kwangtung troops and the Kwangsi "Ironsides" forces is likely. The military situation, which looked exceedingly serious before the Chinese New Year, has been quiet during the last few days. Both the Kwangsi "Ironsides" forces (which are pressing upon Wuchow) and the Kwangtung troops have remained on the defensive.

It is reported that a certain Kwangsi leader is trying to settle the situation by peaceful means, so as to avert further bloodshed. The Canton Higher Command is said to have agreed to the proposed compromise, in view of the difficulty of exterminating the enemy.

The coalition is also said to be willing to come to terms with the Kwangtung troops, as their attempt to conquer Kwangtung must prove fruitless due to their limited force and lack of military supplies. The terms suggested by the Kwangsi troops is the withdrawal of the Kwangtung troops from Kwangsi, leaving all civil and military affairs to the Kwangsi leaders. Negotiations are being carried on between delegates of both parties.

"Another report from Wuchow states that the Kwangsi 'Ironsides' forces have retreated to Pingnam and Pinglok, in view of the drastic measures taken by the Canton troops. Martial law has been relaxed in Wuchow. Admiral Chen Chak, who returned to Canton from Kiangchow lately, has left for Wuchow to direct his flotilla co-operating with the Kwangtung forces.

Rumours are current that the Kwangsi troops have arrived at Yungchui, a few miles from Wuchow, and that the Canton troops are preparing to evacuate Wuchow and fall back on Takking.

CAPTURE KWEILIN IN

H. CHIEN.

(With Tse Yui Pao.)

NANKING, Feb. 2.

Chiang Kai Shek has telegraphed Ho Chien, chairman of the Hunan Provincial Government, instructing him "to capture Kweilin in ten days."

General Ho Ying Ching said in an interview that Ho Chien has already dispatched troops to assist in the Kwangsi campaign and that the Central Government will send the necessary supplies.

TWO HONG KONG PAPERS BANNED.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

CANTON, Feb. 2.

Two more Hong Kong Chinese newspapers, have been banned in Canton for publication of reports of the Kwangsi campaign, not altogether favourable to Canton. This has brought the number of banned Hong Kong papers up to six, and only four Chinese newspapers from the Colony are allowed to sell here.

CANTON POLICE RAID
FORGER'S DEN.

According to the vernacular Press, a raid was carried out by the Canton police on a banknote forger's den in Wo On Street, Saikwan, on Saturday last. A quantity of forged Hong Kong and Chinese banknotes to the value of over $600, and over $100 worth of counterfeit coins as well as instruments for counterfeiting were seized. A man who gave his name as Hu Wing, aged over forty, was arrested, but he denied any knowledge of the forged banknotes and the instruments, saying that they were left at his house by a friend.

DEPARTURE OF SIR CECIL CLEMENTI.

FAREWELL SCENES AT QUEEN'S PIER AND KOWLOON.THE HON. MR. W. T. SOUTHERN SWORN IN AS ACTING GOVERNOR.

The last scenes of farewell to His Excellency Sir Cecil Clementi, K.C.M.G., Governor of Hong Kong, when he sailed on Saturday by the Mantua to take up his new appointment as Governor of the Straits Settlements, were touching in the extreme. Sir Cecil and Lady Clementi were clearly very deeply moved, and the great and cosmopolitan crowd who collected to bid them goodbye felt that they were losing one who had been a friend to every community settled in the Colony.

Queen's Pier was decorated with flags and palms, sailors and soldiers lined the streets, and over the heads of the great crowd circled the aeroplanes from Kai Tak Aerodrome in perfect formation. Warships in port dressed ship for the occasion, and a salute of 17 guns was fired as the launch Britannia steamed away from the harbour.

Later in the morning the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G., was sworn in as Officer Administering the Government by the Chief Justice, Sir Henry Gollan, in the Council Chamber.

CABLED MESSAGES.

The gathering at Queen's Pier included members of the Executive and Legislative Councils, the Judges, members of the Civil Service, of the Consular Body, of the Army and Navy, and friends and well-wishers of all the nationalities represented in the Colony. At 10.45 a.m. the Guard of Honour provided by the Royal Navy and the 2nd Bn. The King's Own Scottish Borderers marched to the Pier, preceded by the Marine Band and Pipe Band. His Excellency and Lady Clementi with their youngest daughter arrived at 11.15. After the playing of the National Anthem, His Excellency inspected the Guard, and then he and Lady Clementi passed on to the pier shaking hands and talking to those who had come to bid them farewell. Three hearty cheers were given as the launch Britannia left the pier.

Scenes at Kowloon.

At Kowloon there was another large crowd. His Excellency went on board the Mantua by a special gangway on the port side, and was seen a few moments later with Lady Clementi standing on the boat-deck. All eyes were turned to that slender erect figure as, with compressed lips and sorrowful eyes, he looked towards the Peak of the Colony, he had ruled. Lady Clementi was weeping openly. Sir Cecil and Lady Clementi had come to regard Hong Kong as their home. For 18 years, with but one break, the late Governor has been associated with this Colony, and he regarded it as a happy turn in his career when he was appointed to the Governorship in 1925, and his profound knowledge of the Chinese was of the greatest aid in the troublous times through which the Colony was then passing.

From 1896, when he came to the Colony as a cadet, Sir Cecil served until 1913, a period of 14 years. He then saw service in British Guiana and in Ceylon, after which he returned to assume the Governorship of Hong Kong.

His new appointments is that of Governor of the Straits Settlements and High Commissioner of the Federated Malay States, a higher salaried, and more important post, but it can never be doubted that Sir Cecil's regret at leaving Hong Kong is as deep as that of the Colony at losing him.

A number of launches followed the Mantua out of harbour, and at Lyceum Pass a last cheer of farewell was given by the troops stationed at the Pass.

ACTING GOVERNOR.

HON. MR. W. T. SOUTHERN SWORN IN.

The Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern assumed the administration on Saturday. The oaths of office were administered by the Chief Justice, Sir Henry Gollan, in the Council Chamber at 12.30. Subsequently addressing the assembly, the Hon. Mr. Southern said:—

"I thank you all for your attendance here to-day to witness this solemn ceremony and I trust that with your advice and co-operation I may be enabled properly to discharge the responsible duties of my office. I rejoice that I shall on this occasion, unlike the last period of my administration, enjoy the support and assistance of my wife who has so much at heart the interests of every section of the community."

"I wish specially to thank His Honour the Chief Justice, who, accompanied by His Honour the Puisne Judge, has attended in person to administer the oaths with due form and ceremony."

"Single-minded Devotion."

"We meet, gentlemen, at a moment of sadness when we have just said 'Good-bye' to one who will be greatly missed in this Colony which he loved so well. It has been my privilege to be in the closest personal touch with Sir Cecil Clementi during the last three and a half years, and no one can better realise his single-minded devotion to the welfare of this Colony. He has given of his best for Hong Kong, and his best was good indeed."

He has laid the whole Colony under a deep debt of gratitude which the Colony reciprocates with admiration and affection. I would add my own respectful tribute to a great administrator and a personal friend."

Lady Clementi.

In all his work Sir Cecil had the constant co-operation of Lady Clementi, who threw herself wholeheartedly into so many good causes. Her affections also were closely bound up with Hong Kong and she shares with Sir Cecil the regrets and good wishes which follow them on their way."

I know it will be your wish, Gentlemen, that I should telegraph to Sir Cecil and Lady Clementi bidding them farewell in the name of the Colony and wishing them all good fortune. With your concurrence I propose to send them the following telegram:—

"SIR CECIL CLEMENTI—K.C.M.G. Mantua.—Executive and Legislative Councils, assembled for the swearing-in ceremony, desire in the name of the whole Colony to express to Lady Clementi and yourself their heartfelt regret at your departure, their deep appreciation of your devoted labours for the Colony's welfare, and their best wishes for a pleasant voyage and for every happiness and prosperity in Malaya—SOUTHERN."

Sir Cecil's Reply.

The following message, addressed to the Acting Governor, H.E. the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G., was received on Saturday evening:—

"Warmest thanks to you and to the Executive and Legislative Councils for your delightful message of farewell.—CECILI."

MR. J. C. FLETCHER.

POPULAR SCHOOLMASTER
DEPARTS.

Amongst the passengers who left by the P. and O. liner Mantua on Saturday was Mr. J. C. Fletcher, of the Colony's Educational Department, who has been invalided out of the service. Hong Kong thus loses one of its best-known schoolmasters, who has enjoyed wide popularity amongst a large circle of friends and colleagues.

Mr. Fletcher entered the Government service in 1915, prior to which he had been for several years with the Ellis Kadoorie School in Canton and later with the school of the same name in Hong Kong before it was taken over by the Government. During the Great War, he was seconded for military service, and was absent from the Colony for a period of fifteen months.

For many years past, he has been on the staff of Queen's College, teaching in the higher classes, and was specially interested in the organising of school athletics.

Mr. Fletcher has also been for many years a keen Volunteer, having held the rank of Sergeant in the Corps, and he was one of the original members of the Scottish Company. He was an enthusiastic member of the St. Andrew's Society, and had served for many years on committees in connexion with the annual ball.

His many friends will hope that he may enjoy many years of health and happiness in the Old Country.

THE SILVER SCREEN.

ANOTHER "TALKIE" SUCCESS.

Last week we saw and heard how magnificently the "talkies" can reproduce a spectacular "song and dance" show of the first class. This week, at the Queen's, we have a demonstration of the effectiveness of the new-style movie in presenting a straight dramatic entertainment. The play now being presented—"The Last of Mrs. Cheyne"—is one of those clever Lonsdale tragicomedies which we all like to see when on home-leave. It had a great run both in London and New York, but it is no longer necessary to wait for those widely-separated spells of long leave in order to enjoy such plays. At the Queen's yesterday the London stage was brought vividly to Hong Kong—via Hollywood, of course, but the play's the thing, and the play was perfect, even in its screen adaptation.

It would be absurd to suggest that a "talkie" dramatic entertainment is as real as the real thing, but when the reality is unattainable—as it is to us out here—then the shadow is well worth seeing, especially when the acting is of such a high standard, and the action is accompanied by such excellent voice reproduction. The "hook" of the play contains some very brilliant lines, many of which have been cleverly incorporated in the "talkie" adaptation.

Norma Shearer makes a fascinating heroine, and Basil Rathbone plays the handsome hero with no less success. The story of the play is a clever one, dealing with the adventures of a woman jewel-thief, and the main incidents have been quite cleverly adapted for screen purposes.

"Mrs. Cheyne" will be "at home" at the Queen's daily up to Wednesday evening, and she is well worth making acquaintance with. Those who go to see her will have a very pleasant couple of hours' entertainment, and will find that her friend the butler is a much more interesting person than such people usually are—at least on the stage. In fact, all the characters in the play are excellent. It is a film to be seen by everyone who enjoys a good dramatic performance.

"The Iron Mask."

At the World there is now showing one of Douglas Fairbank's best pictures—"The Iron Mask." It is scarcely necessary to say more—everybody knows the story of the iron mask, and nearly everyone knows the wonderful prowess of Mr. Fairbanks when he is in a tight corner.

This film has been recently received in London, and a leading critic writes of it:—

"The conclusion of 'The Iron Mask' is, perhaps, the most inspiring scene ever shown in a motion picture. I am not often moved, but I was moved by that, because it expresses practically the whole of my screen philosophy. Athos, Porthos, and Aramis are dead, and D'Artagnan has just died gloriously for France. The end of the film is in sight, when, suddenly, the spirit forms of the first three comrades appear in the clouds and beckon their friend to join them. 'Come on,' they would shout, 'there are much better adventures over here.' So off the four friends go, down a long cloud lane, and the film ends, as it should, with the title, 'The Beginning.' Talk would shatter that great moment, which has had no equal since the gallant company in 'Robin Hood' marched back into the castle and left King John outside, as a person not fit to consort with true believers."

Tom Mix.

Tony, the wonder-horse, and Tom Mix are at the Star to-day, and on Tuesday and Wednesday Conrad Nagel and Dolores Costello appear in a New York night-life story. From Thursday to Saturday there will be an Edgar Wallace thriller, "The Terror."

NEW GOVERNMENT

It is one of the most pleasurable tasks to enter into the spirit of the ideal of beauty of different nations, and establish how female beauty has been regarded at different times. For centuries the historic and plastic arts have flourished in China, the mother to many arts and teacher to many nations.

Nobody will mistake the slim and pliant lines of the body, the beauty of which the Chinese never tire of comparing with the willows whilst the wind plays.

Everybody will admire the nobly formed hands, the fingers of which the Chinese poet describes as being as delicate as fibres. But on the other hand, and there at least he finds no approval with the Chinese of the older generation, he will rejoice at the beautifully formed feet which are naturally uncrippled in these models.

HONG KONG, FEBRUARY 3, 1930.

FORCING THE PACE.

It is a month now since the announcement was made in Nanking

by the Chinese Government that extra-territorial rights were abolished as from January 1. Since announcing the alleged abolition nothing more has happened save an pleasant incident at Hankow, to which reference has been made already in our columns. We learn,

however, from the Peking correspondent of the United Press that mass meetings are being held in all the principal cities at intervals of about a week to demand that the Government at Nanking "put some teeth" into the mandate to abolish extra-territoriality. The mandate was issued to be effective from the first day of January, but the Government has delayed issuing the promised regulations which would make the mandate effective. The mass meetings, organised by the Kuomintang, are asking that these regulations be drawn up without further delay. The Government's hesitation in issuing the regulations is attributed to the unanimous condemnation which the mandate aroused in the countries affected,

which include Great Britain, the United States, Japan, France, and Italy. All these countries have now intimated, in no uncertain terms, that they cannot submit to the abolition of extra-territoriality so long as Chinese Courts are subject to the whims of military freelances.

The mass meetings of protests

follow a common pattern, being organised by the publicity departments of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang, which issues instructions to the various district Kuomintang organisations. The theme of the speeches at all these meetings is that foreign nations have impeded

China's progress by the system which they compelled past Chinese

Governments to accept, through the application of force, and that the time has now arrived for the complete abolition of this system. At most meetings one speaker at least attacks the Government for its dilatory tactics in regard to the promised regulations which would make the mandate effective, and suggesting that the Government issued the January mandate as a purely political move, with no intention of actually enforcing it.

Diplomatic circles in Peking believe that the Government at Nanking has been surprised by the firmness with which Western nations have opposed the summary abolition of extra-territoriality. It is also believed that the National Government will hesitate to issue the necessary regulations enforcing the mandate knowing, as they now do,

that the principal friendly Powers will refuse to accept them.

COMMUNISTS IN GERMANY.SERIOUS BERLIN RIOTS.*SIXTY RINGLEADERS ARRESTED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Berlin, Feb. 2. Over 100 arrests were made during sporadic rioting by Communists which were city wide. The most serious trouble was in the Neukölln quarter.

The Communists demolished lamp posts, erected barricades and fired on the police, and the latter returned the fire. There is a strong force of police now working searchlights to prevent the demonstrators carrying out attacks in the darkness. The arrested include sixty ringleaders.

Four processions were broken up by the police, three of whom were seriously wounded in the Charlottenburg district and three others were beaten senseless in the east end of the city.

More Demonstrators Arrested.

Fifty demonstrators, led by two Communists, en route to Hamburg from Leubek have been arrested.

Hamburg, Feb. 1. The Communists profiting by the distress amongst the 2½ million unemployed organised militant demonstrations resulting in serious collisions with the Police, the latter used firearms and there were many injured on both sides. The Communists succeeded in inciting the unemployed to demonstrate in Berlin despite official prohibition.

Berlin, Feb. 1. Seventy-six Leaders of the Communist Processions which were fixed for to-day were arrested yesterday night when the police raided a hall in which they were holding a meeting. A quantity of arms was found in the possession of the men who were detained.

GENERAL SMUTS SAILS FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Feb. 2. General Smuts sailed for South Africa from Southampton, to-day.

DOMINIONS AND THE "2ND COMMITTEE."

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Feb. 1. It is stated authoritatively that there is no truth in the suggestion that the Dominions Representatives at the Naval Conference demanded representation on the "second committee" thus embarrassing Mr. R. MacDonald.

It is added that although the "second committee" is not yet appointed this does not mean that it will not be formed.

AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC APPOINTMENTS.CONFIRMED BY SENATE.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

Washington, Feb. 1. The Senate has confirmed the appointments of Mr. Alexander Moore as Ambassador to Poland and Mr. Brodie to be Minister to Finland.

LENA GOLDFIELDS.CONCESSION FINED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Rio, Feb. 1. Mr. Sampson, the Authorized Representative of the Lena Goldfields Concession, was sentenced last October for using compulsory labour and the concession was fined twenty-five thousand roubles as a result of alleged complaints made by the workmen that their wages were not paid punctually. Mr. Sampson's sentence simply means that his freedom is curtailed and he must remain in the same employment that he was in last October and not leave the town where he is employed.

Mr. Sampson has appealed against this sentence.

BOMB IN BRITISH MUSEUM.ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE BY INDIANS.*ANONYMOUS WARNING.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Feb. 1. Scotland Yard detectives, enquiring into the startling discovery of a bomb in the Indian Room in the British Museum. The bomb was discovered following a telephone message from a stranger saying that he overheard Indian students saying they intended placing a bomb in the Museum. All the officials of the Museum were immediately notified and a thorough search revealed a bomb which was obviously of home manufacture wrapped in a newspaper, hidden on the first landing, a short distance from the spot where the Indian exhibits are arranged.

An alarm was raised and the police summoned. They cut off the fuse from the bomb and took the latter to the police station for an expert's report, until the receipt of which it cannot be said whether it was a deliberate intention to blow up part of the Museum or a hoax.

Official's Opinion.

A responsible official of the British Museum, when interviewed, expressed considerable scepticism regarding the seriousness of the find. He is of the opinion that it is probably a hoax.

The result of the experts' investigation regarding the bomb, which was found wrapped in a piece of newspaper, is not yet known.

Superintendent Parker is in charge of a special branch of Scotland Yard which has taken charge of the investigations and is endeavouring to trace the man, who telephoned a warning, it is understood he gave the name of Ali Khan.

HUGE POST OFFICE SURPLUS.RECORD FIGURES.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Jan. 31. A surplus of £9,000,000 is revealed in the Post Office commercial accounts for the year ended March last. This is the highest recorded in the history of the Post Office.

The figures are:—Postal surplus, £9,250,000; telephone surplus, £500,000; telegraph deficit, £725,000. The cash receipts for wireless licences totalled £1,354,187 against £1,234,488 for the preceding year. After 12½ per cent. had been credited to the Post Office for expenses of management, etc., a balance remained of £1,179,501, of which £287,616 was paid over to the British Broadcasting Corporation and £291,885 accrued to the Exchequer.

CHINA'S "BILL OF RIGHTS."DR. SUN'S WILL PROVIDES FOR ALL.

The proposed "Bill of Rights" of the people, which had been discussed at recent meetings of the Central Political Council, was "held over for future consideration" by the Standing Committee of the Central Executive Committee in Nanking on January 28, following a brief discussion of the proposal. The "Bill" was formulated by a number of leading Government officials including Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Industry, Commerce and Labour, and Mr. Tsiao Yi Tang, a prominent member of the Legislative Yuan. Prior to its being submitted to the Party's Central Executive Committee, it had undergone careful revision by Presidents Tan Yen Kai, Hu Han Min and Wang Chung Hui respectively of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Yuan.

The reason for the decision of the Party's highest authority to reserve the proposal for future consideration, is the fact that at the beginning of the present Period of Political Tutelage, the bequeathed instructions of the late Party Leader, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, are regarded as the fundamental law of the Republic, as determined upon at the Third National Congress of the Kuomintang held last year, and therefore, no necessity arises for promulgating any other law bearing upon the question of the constitutional rights of the people. Moreover, the resolution status, part of the contents of the proposal, has already been enacted into law and is now in force while the rest still awaits carrying out according to the proper procedure.

BRITAIN'S NAVAL SACRIFICES.TWO MORE CRUISERS TO BE SCRAPPED.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Feb. 1.

It is learned from authoritative Naval quarters that the two cruisers to be scrapped from the 20/30 programme, are in addition to the Sarrey and the Northumberland which belonged to the 25/25 programme. Thus altogether three Ten thousand ton cruisers and one smaller cruiser have been cancelled.

FRENCH COMPROMISE.MEETING OF FIRST COMMITTEE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Feb. 2.

One hundred and ninety-six members of the House of Commons, chiefly Labourite members of the Parliamentary Peace Group, have memorialised Mr. Ramsay MacDonald expressing their warm agreement with the Government's desire to obtain the consent of all nations to the abolition of submarines, and the reduction of cruisers to those calculated necessary for protection purposes only.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

The First Committee of the Naval Conference, consisting of all the members of the Conference met this afternoon at St. James's Palace, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald presiding and took up the questions of limitation by global tonnage and limitation by categories.

After statements had been made by Mr. A. V. Alexander, the British First Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. Wakatsuki (Japan), Admiral Siriani (Italy), and Mr. Adams (United States), M. Massigli, on behalf of the French delegation gave an outline of the revised French compromise proposal.

The Committee adjourned until February 4 in order to give the delegates an opportunity to study the statement, and any proposals that might be submitted to them.

The French compromise proposals outlined at the meeting were issued later in the form of a memorandum. The Memorandum proposes that the limitation of naval material shall be by total or global tonnage. The maximum shall be fixed for the individual standard displacement of vessels and the calibre of guns.

Each high contracting party shall show by tonnage per class, the way in which it intends to distribute the total tonnage to which it has limited itself.

Dominions Demand Representation.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Jan. 31.

Gossip outside the Naval Conference to-day centres round the so-called "Second Committee" which was the subject of Mr. Stimson's resolution yesterday.

It is not yet functioning. Indeed, it has been described as "still-born." The reason suggested is that the Dominions demand representation on the Committee, which would mean an all-British representation of six or seven as compared with the two each of the other Powers.

Three American women, accompanied by two Japanese women, arrived in London to-day to submit to the Naval Conference anti-war petitions signed by six million American women and 180,000 Japanese women.

SOVIET-MEXICAN RELATIONS BROKEN OFF.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Moscow, Jan. 31.

The Soviet Minister in Mexico City has been recalled, the action following the announcement of the Mexican Government that they proposed to sever diplomatic relations with the Soviet on the ground that Moscow has been responsible for recent demonstrations against Mexico.

CHINESE COMMITS SUICIDE.

A Chinese coolie living in No. 24, Aberdeen Street, committed suicide by jumping into the street from the second floor on Saturday evening. He was rushed to hospital at once but succumbed shortly after admission, both his skull and arms having been seriously injured. The motive of his suicidal action is alleged to be the heavy loss he sustained in gambling during the Chinese New Year.

RUSSIA STILL INSISTING.CHINA MUST SEND DELEGATE AT ONCE.*MUKDEN READY TO AMEND PROTOCOL.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

Mukden, Feb. 2.

The authorities have received a note from the Soviet to the effect that if China does not at once dispatch a delegate to the Sino-Russian Conference, China will have to hold herself responsible for any "untoward event" which may happen. The telegram has been forwarded to Nanking.

It is understood that Chang Hsueh Liang has telegraphed to Mr. Mo Teh Hui, China's plenipotentiary to the Sino-Russian Conference instructing him to resign his resignation if the Central Government is willing to amend the Habarovsk Protocol but if the Government refuses to recognize the Protocol, he may resign.

Disagreements at Nanking.

Nanking, Feb. 2.

Chiang Kai Shek saw Dr. C. T. Wang on Saturday to discuss the Sino-Russian issue. It is understood that several members of the Cabinet insisted that no delegate be sent to the Sino-Russian Conference in view of the disadvantageous terms of the Habarovsk Protocol, while others agreed to the amending of the Protocol. The Central Government is asking Chang Hsueh Liang for his opinion.

Mo Teh Hui is still at Nanking discussing the matter with the Government.

Cost of the Dispute.

Peking, Feb. 2.

Owing to the Sino-Russian dispute, the Three Eastern Provinces have suffered considerably. The losses sustained in Manchuli and Hailar alone is estimated at $70,000,000. The C.E.R. authorities have appointed a commission to investigate the sufferings of the Chinese people along the Railway line.

Many Russian employees of the Railway who were dismissed by the Chinese authorities during the dispute have been reinstated. The Chinese employees discharged by the new Soviet director of the Railway are still idle.

Over 17,000 Chinese residents near Huilungking have fled to Mukden. The authorities are hoping to send them back in three months.

Over 50,000 refugees have been sent back to Manchuli and Hailar by special train of the C.E.R. up to the end of last month.

THE PROVISIONAL COURT.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

Shanghai, Feb. 2.

In an interview with Press representatives, Dr. Wang Chung Hui, the Minister of Justice said that action has been taken for the actual reorganization of the Provisional Court. He added that the foreign delegates have still not received instructions from their respective Governments as to when the agreement will be signed and when the terms of the agreement will become effective.

AVIATION SERVICES.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

Nanking, Feb. 2.

In addition to the first civil aviation service between Shanghai and Nanking, the Ministry of Communications is planning a second service line between Nanking and Harbin via Pengu, Haichow, Tientsin, Tientsin, Shanhaiwan and Mukden and a third service line between Nanking and Yunnanfu via Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Kweichow.

PLEA FOR OPIUM SMOKERS.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

Shanghai, Feb. 2.

The anti-opium Society has appealed to the Ministry of Interior to instruct the police authorities not to punish opium smoker themselves. The smokers must be sent to the judicial court for punishment.

SIR M. LAMPSON IN NANKING.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

Shanghai, Feb. 2.

Sir Miles Lampson, the British Minister has left for Nanking to discuss with Dr. C. T. Wang the Extrajudicial question.

THE NEW BUDGET."NO RAIDS ON CAPITAL."*IMPORTANT STATEMENT BY MR. SNOWDEN.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Feb. 1.

Mr. Philip Snowden, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, referred in a speech at Leeds last night to his forthcoming budget. He said that two months remain before the end of the financial year, and the bulk of the revenue from the main source had still to be realised. He did not know what might happen in regard to receipts from income tax, which is collected mainly during the next few months. Unless this reached considerably improvement it was not unlikely that the budget estimate of twelve months ago would not be realised. The National Finance of the country would have no other way to pay out.

He added: "I shall commit no raids. I shall not take out of capital to meet current and recurrent expenditure and treat it as ordinary revenue."

Helping Prosperity.

The main consideration at the moment was that the State should use all the power it has to help the restoration and increase the prosperity of the country. The responsibility of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, when faced with the imperative need of raising the revenue, was to do it in such a way as would rather be a help and encouragement to industry than an additional burden upon it.

With prosperous trade and cheaper money rates, which he hoped and believed would come before very long, it would be possible to make some impression on the National debt and by then debt reduction would become practicable.

MISSING AEROPLANE FOUND.WRECKAGE OF EIELSON'S MACHINE SEEN.

[United Press.]

New York, Jan. 26.

Wreckage of the long-lost aeroplane of the arctic explorer Carl Eielson was reported to have been found 90 miles west of Cape North by the aviators Gilliam and Crossen.

This word was received in a message sent to headquarters of the Eielson Relief Expedition and the Aviation Corporation, under whose supervision Eielson organized the Alaska Airways Corporation some months ago, from two sources—Teller, Alaska, and the Swenson Fur Trading Co's ship Nanuk, icebound near Cape North.

The first report said that there was no trace of the bodies of Eielson and the passengers with whom he was flying to Nome from the Nanuk at the time of his disappearance, last November. The wreckage of the aeroplane was scattered over a space 100 ft. long, but the cabin of the ship appeared to be virtually intact although partially buried in snowdrifts.

Orders have been given for other aviators and also for dog teams to return to the scene to-morrow, as the initial sighting was in the course of the aerial search which has been under way for weeks and it was impossible to make complete inspection.

Eielson vanished on November 9 when he, in co-operation with Frank Dorland in another plane, was engaged in taking passengers and furs from the Nanuk and also from the ice-locked Soviet ship Stavropol. His aeroplane was last seen by a party of natives within 60 miles of the Nanuk.

THE FOOCHOW SITUATION.AN ADMIRAL IN DESPAIR.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao.)

Foochow, Feb. 2.

General Lu Hsing Pong, who was responsible for the recent coup d'état in Foochow has decided to release the five members of the Fukien Provincial Government who were detained by him some time ago.

The situation in Foochow is obscure. Admiral Yang Shu Chwang, the chairman of the Provincial Government said he could devise no measure to settle the situation.

Peking, Feb. 2.

According to statistics compiled by the Hopei Provincial Government, the population of that province is about 27,900,125 of whom 14,930,451 are males and 12,969,674 are females. There are 27,415 members of the Kuomintang in the Province.

FURTHER SLUMP IN SILVER.NEW YEAR AFFECTS THE MARKET.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Jan. 31.

The price of silver to-day fell from three-eighths of a penny to 1s. 8d. per ounce, which is the lowest price ever touched. Chinese markets are closed for the New Year holidays and no support is being received from that quarter, while the Continent and America have been freely selling metal.

One Shilling An Ounce?

The record low price of silver, which is now becoming a source of depression to investors who held shares in silver mines as well as those doing business with China, is, according to Messrs. Mocatta and Goldsmid's annual circular, due to excess of supply over demand having become a chronic feature of the market. They point out that, excepting in 1923, silver has shown a declining price ever since 1924.

The future of the market is uncertain. "It is not expected that even the present low level of price will have any material effect on production, and it seems unlikely that an amount similar to that sold in 1929 can be marketed without further concessions in price. On the other hand, the extremely low level should stimulate demand, both in India and China, and any further decline should be much smaller and more gradual than the fall sustained in 1929."

As far as silver mining shares are concerned, there is ample room in most cases for the companies to "cut" their cost of production. In some quarters in London there is talk of silver going down to a shilling an ounce (the price in London last Friday was 20d., the lowest on record). If the metal should drop to 12d., as some think likely, export business to China will be impossible.

PERSIA'S SILVER EMBARGO.AFFECTED BY FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

TEHRAN, Jan. 31.

The Medjliss (Persian Parliament) has passed a Bill prohibiting the importation of silver in Persia, owing to its recent depreciation and the serious hampering of trade which has resulted from the dearness of foreign exchange.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS IN AMERICA.INCREASE BY THIRTEEN PER CENT.

[United Press.]

Chicago, Jan. 27.

Statistics of the National Safety Council, published to-day, showed that approximately 31,500 persons were killed in automobile accidents in the United States during the past year.

This represents an increase of 13 per cent. over the figures for 1928. The majority of those killed were pedestrians.

Neither the increase of the population of the United States nor the increase in the number of automobiles and the miles of new streets and highways explain the rise in the fatality list.

AMERICAN FARMERS WARNED.REASON FOR POOR RESULTS.

[United Press.]

Washington, Jan. 27.

A warning was given to the farmers of the United States to-day by Mr. Arthur H. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, that they should control their acreage, reduce production and organize co-operative work if they expect to carry on their work at a profit.

Production must be kept close to domestic demand for farm products, Mr. Hyde continued, or both low prices and actual waste will be the inevitable result. "Blind production for an unknown demand is now the bane of agriculture," emphasized the Secretary in the course of his statement.

The present competitive selling by some 6,000,000 American farmers usually gives purchasers all the advantage while the producer reaps the meagre result of his own lack of vision, said Mr. Hyde. There is little hope, the Secretary indicated, for any great demand from abroad, in excess of the demands as they exist at present.

INTERNATIONAL RUGBY.SCOTLAND BEATS WALES.*THRILLING LAST MINUTE EFFORT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

London, Feb. 1.

There was a game of 50,000 at the rugby match in Edinburgh to-day between representatives of Scotland and Wales. Scotland won by twelve points to nine.

The hardy scrummaging of the Welsh pack, combined with their sturdy rushes, jeopardised the Scottish line, but Scotland scored twenty minutes after the start through Simmers, the try converted by Waters.

Two minutes later Wales equalised when Graham Jones got through and Ivor Jones converted the try. Graham Jones then sent his side ahead by scoring a dropped goal. Before the interval Simmers scored for Scotland, the try, however, failing to bring the additional points. The score at this stage was in favour of Wales by nine points to eight.

The Scottish backs, who had so far played a brilliant game, proved to be erratic, and it seemed as if they had shot their bolt until a heroic last-minute rush, led by Agnew, forced Wales to kick over their own line. From the ensuing scrum, Waddell gave Scotland victory two minutes before the close by scoring a dropped goal.

Final score: Scotland 12 points (two tries, one goal, one dropped goal), Wales 9 points (one try, one goal, one dropped goal).

In the international matches between these two, Scotland have now won 21 matches, Wales 18, drawn 2.

INDIAN CONSPIRACY TRIAL.COMMUNIST HELP FOR REVOLUTIONARIES.*PROVED FACTS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

MEERUT, Jan. 31.

Facing serious charges of conspiring to deprive His Majesty the King of his sovereignty in India, thirty-one accused committed from the Police Court, appeared at the Central Criminal Court to-day, when the last stage of the protracted proceedings opened.

In addition to the Judge, there were five Assessors, all Indians, on the Bench.

The Prosecutor, opening his case, declared that the accused aimed at establishing a "coolie Government" in the country, which really meant securing power for a small pligarchy, controlled by the Communist International at Moscow.

It will be recalled that in making the order for their committal a fortnight ago, the Magistrate enumerated what he described as "seventeen proved facts."

One of the notable facts, he said, was that the Communist International had been making strenuous endeavours to cause a revolution in India and entered into a conspiracy to form Workers' and Peasants' Parties, to foment strikes, and lead up to a General Strike, followed by a revolution in conformity therewith.

It has also been proved that Moscow has been supplying liberal funds to the Workers' and Peasants' Parties of different provinces, while several persons like Allison, Pratt and Bradley had been sent to India with the express object of fomenting a revolution.

DESPERATE FLIGHT OF CHICAGO.TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS TO BE RAISED.

[United Press.]

Chicago, Jan. 25.

Mr. Elias Strawn, Chicago lawyer who heads the "citizens' rescue committee" which is striving to save the city from imminent bankruptcy, announced to-day that he has persuaded wealthy private citizens to buy $20,000,000 worth of city tax warrants which will cover the most urgent immediate needs.

The bank refused to participate in the purchase because of the large indebtedness now outstanding.

The amounts will be purchased as the municipality applies funds to the most needed objects, which include sanitary work, street cleaning and garbage collection, back pay of teachers, firemen and policemen and employment of additional personnel to bring these forces back to full strength.

JUNIOR SHIELD REPLAY.

NAVY RESERVES v. S.L.I. RESERVES.

These teams met on the Railway ground in the Junior Shield replay, and a similar result to that at Scookunpo last week was the outcome, one goal all after extra time. A third meeting will therefore be necessary before one can qualify for the second round.

The game was keenly contested, and the teams were very evenly matched. The first half was pointless, and the second half opened with the Navy pressing, but the S.L.I. defence rose to the occasion and kept them out.

The game was a ding-dong one, and well up to the standard of Cup ties. The S.L.I. took the lead through Farley, who beat Clarke with a fast rising shot. Close on time that Navy forced a corner and Abbott banged the ball into the net, and made the scores equal.

Extra time was played, but there was little left as the players had been all out in the last half. There was no scoring during extra time.

Result:—

LEAGUE—DIVISION I.

ST. JOSEPH'S v. R.A.

These teams met on St. Joseph's ground in their return League game, the Gunners again being successful, but the margin reduced to a goal, the visitors winning by two goals to one.

The teams lined out as under:—
R.A.: Fletcher; Oliver and Rawlings; Ward, Taylor and Gardiner; Cotton, Allan, Gill, Davey and Walker.

St. Joseph's: A. M. Omar; Ryder and Read; Skinner, Greenslade and O. Omar; R. R. Omar, Sansom, Gallagher, Souza and Jackson.

The R.A. took up the attack from the kick-off, and for a time St. Joseph's were defending. The Saints then took up the running, but the R.A. defence was on top. Gallagher later had a good opening but ballooned over the bar. Half-time, no score.

The Saints attacked from the centre when the game restarted, and forced a corner but Greenslade shot wide. R. M. Omar opened the score for St. Joseph's. With this reverse the R.A. put on pressure, and from a pass by Gill Davey made the score equal.

From the centre kick the R.A. forced a corner, and from a well placed kick by Cotton, Gill headed the ball into the net to give the Gunners the lead. St. Joseph's played up strongly in the closing minutes, but failed to again beat Fletcher, and were forced to retire defeated by the margin of one goal.

Result:—

SOUTH CHINA "A" v. EASTERN.

This game was played at Caroline Hill and ended in a win for South China by two clear goals.

Although South China had the better of the exchanges in the opening half they failed to score. Eastern playing a good hustling game. Early in the second half South China took the lead through Tam Kwok Pak. The same player scored again before the final whistle sounded.

CHINESE ATHLETIC "A" v. H.K.F.C. RESERVES.

Played at North Point Stadium, the home team winning by three clear goals. Lai Kwok Chiu opened the score, and Lee Fong soon increased their lead. Before the interval arrived Ho Choi Wan scored for the Athletic, who were leading by three clear goals when the teams crossed over.

The Club gave a better show in the second half, but failed to score. They managed to keep the Athletic out during this half.

Result:—
Chinese Athletic "A" 3

K.O.S.B. RESERVES v. SOUTH CHINA "B."

South China "B" arrived at Scookunpo with nine men only, and went down to the League leaders by nine clear goals. Toal opened the K.O.S.B. account and soon added another. Crawley sent in a hard shot that the goalie failed to hold, and Toal being well up sent the ball into the net. Before the interval Toal again netted, scoring all the goals before the interval. Stevens increased the K.O.S.B. lead early in the second half, and Mason scored the sixth. Toal headed in from a centre by Geggie to score the seventh. Barham scored with a long shot, and before the final whistle Stevens scored number nine for the K.O.S.B.

HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING.

SHARKEY-SCOTT FIGHT STATUS.

[United Press.]

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.

A cable received to-day from the British Boxing Commission requests the National Boxing Association to declare the world's heavyweight title at stake when Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott fight at Miami, Florida, in March.

The message also stated that Britons expect Max Schmeling, the "German Dempsey," to fight the winner of the Sharkey-Scott mill. Schmeling "ran out" on Scott last year, according to the cable.

While many interested parties, including the two principals in the Sharkey-Scott battle, would be much pleased to see the fight given championship status, indications are that this will not be done because of the fact that it would appear a manufactured "stunt" to bolster up the box-office receipts.

Sharkey is considered by many to be the outstanding contender at the present time, but Scott is poorly thought of in the United States and the average fan or sports expert would find it hard to swallow the idea of a titular battle in which Schmeling was not involved.

INTERPORT GOLF.

HONG KONG BEAT SHANGHAI.

FIVE POINTS TO FOUR.

In the Golf Interport at Faning yesterday Hong Kong beat Shanghai by five points to four.

The following are the full results and a description of the play is also given below:—

FOURSOMES.

Shewan and Marton beat Wrigley and Dodwell
Lawrence and Andrews beat Bowling and Lock

Shanghai.
Blinko and Pilcher beat Cumming and Cumming
Bowling and Lock beat Lock

C. O. Cumming 1 down
Cumming 3 and 2
Bowling 2 and 1
Lock 6 and 5

COURSE IN FINE CONDITION.

Each match, foursomes and singles, counted one point so Hong Kong after looking like an easy win at tiffin time just managed to scrape home.

The Foursomes.
Two ball foursomes over 36 holes were played on Saturday. Shewan and Marton were both playing well and steadily, and with Blinko at times rather wild off the tee, they came in to lunch with a lead of three holes.

In the afternoon they steadily increased their lead to win 7 and 5. Dodwell started very shakily in the second match, probably due to mislaying his clubs and having to rearrange the team at the last moment owing to Ferguson's indisposition. Anyhow Shanghai jumped into a big lead from the start and as soon as Hong Kong got settled down they started to reduce the deficit.

Apart from one or two bad shots Wrigley played a consistently sound game. By tiffin Hong Kong had brought Shanghai back to 4 up and they continued to snatch holes in the afternoon.

They were one down after the 13th and things were looking bright but Dodwell booked his drive and Wrigley failed to recover and that was virtually the end of the match. Lawrence and Andrews also gave a good account of themselves in the morning and started out after tiffin with a credit balance of two holes, which they gradually increased till they won 4 and 3.

The Singles.
Sunday opened rather cloudy with a stiff breeze blowing straight against one at the first hole.

As there had been practically no wind during the week when Shanghai were practicing, or what little there was from the opposite direction, this should have been to the advantage of Hong Kong, but in the afternoon, at the 7th hole where the wind was dead against us, we saw one after the other under-clubbing with irons, hitting like blazes and either hooking or being short whilst one or two of the Shanghai players took wood and got there. Even if you go over the 7th green, it's much easier to chip dead from the shelf than from the bunkers in front of the green.

Shewan v. Blinko.
Shewan had a great game with Blinko who was hitting a very long ball. Shewan had not his usual infallibility from the tee but when he did connect he gave as good as he got and it must have seemed all wrong to Blinko, that a man half his size could hit as far as he could.

Shewan must have felt fairly satisfied to lead by two holes at tiffin, but he threw away a chance of consolidating his position at the first hole in the afternoon. Blinko was over with his second, too strong with his next and left himself a longish putt for a five. Shewan was too strong with his putt and missed the next and Blinko sank his for a half. At the 2nd Shewan duffed his drive but ran his second through the bunkers. Blinko was in the trees but recovered well and sank a raking long putt to win in 4 and later on he sank a couple more long putts whilst Shewan was always uncertain with the yarders. Shewan managed to keep his nose in front till Sandy's Pulpit where they were all square. He won the Armchair where Blinko was too strong and in the trees on the left.

Exciting Scenes.

There was no scoring in the first half, this being mainly due to excellent goal-keeping. In the second half, a goal came to the Hong Kong team after 32 minutes. Defending cheers greeted this success. Hats were thrown in the air, and many pickets of crackers were fired. The spectators, following this success, cheered themselves hoarse for the Hong Kong team, but far from being dismayed, the Shanghai players put more energy into the game and scored two goals in quick succession.

After this reverse, it looked as if Hong Kong were a beaten team. The referee, however, gave a few minutes allowance for time lost during the game and this few minutes proved very costly to the visiting team, for Hong Kong produced an equaliser.

The second half had many interruptions due to the teams changing players whenever a man was injured. This, as previously stated, was possible because the game was played under the rules of the Far Eastern Olympics. There was also a break of a few minutes when the ball in play began to leak and had to be substituted, and on the whole, (Continued on next column).

At Braeide Shewan overdrove the green, duffed his chip and a half resulted.

Both hit good drives at the 17th with Blinko ideally placed down on the left. He misjudged the line over the trees and was just short, with Shewan on the edge; however the latter took three putts so Shewan was dormie, instead of winning 2 and 1.

Shewan was over the home green but recovered well and missed another putt of the type that he usually puts down as a matter of course, and Blinko won the 37th in 3 for the match.

Marton v. Pilcher.

Marton was on the top of his form though he too found putting a nightmare and he gradually piled up a big lead, being 5 up at tiffin and winning by 7 and 6. In the afternoon he surpassed himself being two under fours if the 7th is excepted where he had a little game by himself in the ditch on the left.

Wrigley v. C. O. Cumming.
Wrigley lost a bagful of holes to start with and was three down at the 9th in the morning. On most occasions he is a good putter but to-day they would not drop and missed puts cost him the match.

He was three down at tiffin but soon wiped them off and was leading at the turn. Cumming came back again and was two up after the 13th. Wrigley missed an eighteen inch putt on Sandy's Pulpit for a win but won the next two to square. Then the fun began. Cumming put in second over the path and was on in 4. Wrigley was too strong with his chip and wait over, very short with his return and had to go to the 18th square instead of dormie. Both were within five yards of the pin for two. Wrigley went for his 3, and missed the return, so Shanghai won another match.

D. Andrews v. Cumming.

Andrews and Cumming produced a lot of fire works during their match and the former should have led by three holes at tiffin, but he missed a putt on both the 17th and 18th so started the afternoon one to the good and finally won on the 18th green.

Dodwell v. Bowling.
Dodwell, with the cares of Captaincy comfortably settled played a much steadier game in his single. He was 1 up at the end of the morning round and hung on to his lead to win 2 and 1.

Lawrence v. Lock.
Lawrence started very badly and was soon five or six holes to the bad. He improved as he went along but this milestone round his neck was too big a handicap and he was beaten 6 and 5.

On the whole the golf was of the type one expects in a match of this nature, some very good shots and some terribly bad. The putting problem seemed to trouble Hong Kong more than Shanghai and Blinko especially showed that the putts can be made to drop, specially the shortish variety.

The course was in first-class condition and with the wind in an unaccustomed art it made it difficult for Shanghai to know what club to use in a number of cases, particularly for the second shot at the 11th and 14th and most of them were too strong—fortunately for Hong Kong.

the little extension of time granted by the referee was justifiable, as undoubtedly at least ten minutes were lost by the interruptions in the second half.

Brilliant Shanghai Play.

While Shanghai impressed the spectators with their long swinging passes and clever footwork on Chinese New Year's Day, they created an even better impression when they changed their tactics on Saturday and resorted to short passes. There was complete understanding between the backs and the halves and between the halves and the forwards, and this feature of the play alone was a treat to watch.

For Hong Kong, the forwards were good, but not enterprising enough, being content to wait too long on occasions. The halves were too eager to assist in the defence, and were guilty of neglecting to feed the forwards in the first half of the game. The backs did splendid work in conjunction with the goalie.

HOCKEY.

LADIES PLAY BLUEJACKETS

A match between the Kowloon Ladies and a team from H.M.S. Kent, played at King's Park on Saturday afternoon, resulted in a win for the sailors by 3 goals to 2.

The ladies were two players short, but substitutes were provided by H.M.S. Kent. The game was a fast and interesting one, and the ladies put up a splendid fight, but the superior weight of the men was too much for them.

MONTANA BEATEN IN MAIN EVENT.

AS YOU LIKE IT WINS CHINESE NEW YEAR CUP IN CONVINCING STYLE.

VILLAGERS ENJOY CROSS-COUNTRY RACES.

(By "MORNING DEW.")

There was a good attendance yesterday at Kwanti when the Fanling Hunt and Race Club held their Chinese New Year Meeting. The weather was just ideal and the sport provided had sufficient variety in it to keep interest at a high level throughout. Favourites shared the day with outsiders, and although fields were on the small side, the dividends were quite good.

Montana started a hot favourite for the Chinese New Year Cup, but the pony was well beaten, by As You Like It who ran very well indeed and won deservedly. The Cup was presented to the winner later by Mrs. L. Dunbar, who also gave away the Fox Hunters' Cup in both the Lightweight and the Heavyweight divisions.

The cross-country races were very much enjoyed by all and quite a large gathering of villagers from places near Kwanti turned up and watched the events from the hill-tops. They enjoyed all the thrills and spills that were going and seemed to be as much concerned in the sport as those in the grand stand.

Several improvements in the arrangements were seen. Stoves were provided, but happily the day proved to be warm and the stoves were consequently not much in demand. Everything went with a swing and because there were six races on the card instead of the usual five, there was no tedious waiting at the Fanling station for the race train.

The band of the 1st Battalion, The Somerset Light Infantry, supplied an excellent selection of music during the afternoon.

THE RACING.

Fat Choy Stakes.

Five ponies faced the starter in the curtain-raiser. November and Fanling Stag were joint favourites. November took the lead early on followed by Grey Eyes and Fanling Stag. November was two lengths ahead at the dip and led comfortably to quarter mile from home. He won easily from Fanling Stag. Duke of Neiblung was a poor third. Binge was altogether out of the picture.

Fox Hunters' Cup (Heavyweights).
For the two miles cross-country race six ponies started. Blotting Paper and James Pigg showed the way out of the course with Strathorne and Craigavad in close attendance. Why Not brought up the rear with Caveman dropping out after refusing the first hurdle. Strathorne had a long lead in the country being many lengths ahead of Craigavad and Why Not.

Strathorne lost a great deal of ground in the rough, but again caught up in the field and passed Craigavad when the latter refused the last hurdle. James Pigg gave Strathorne a good race in the straight, but the latter won by a short head. Why Not was third, three lengths behind James Pigg. Craigavad was a poor fourth.

Chinese New Year Cup.
Only three starters took the field in the principal race of the day these being Montana, As You Like It and Suer.

Montana led for the first mile but was closely followed by As You Like It. Suer was well beaten from the word "go." As You Like It gradually reduced the lead and two hurdles from home, was ahead of Montana. Mr. Bulteel rode very well to win by three lengths from the favourite, Montana. Suer was many lengths behind.

This race provided a good dividend to backers of As You Like It.

Midwinter Handicap.

This event attracted only four starters, Christmas Frolic being easily the favourite. He led all the way, but Fern Leaf gave him a very good race in the closing stages and lost only by three lengths. There was some real excitement when Fern Leaf almost drew level two hurdles from home. These two ponies were the only ones to finish as Six Hundred refused to jump and May threw Mr. Cave in the early stages of the race. Fortunately the jockey though heavily thrown, was not injured.

Fox Hunters' Cup (Lightweights).

Fanling Stag won this event after many "ups and downs." Huntington, Brown Eve, Movanager and Mowgli, each led in turn but Fanling Stag led at the winning post and that meant everything. Huntington showed the way into the straight, but refused the last jump to allow Fanling Stag, Movanager and Mowgli to pass him. The winner won by three clear lengths. Mowgli was three quarters of a length behind the second pony.

February Maldens.

Six ponies started here. Samaritan, Buster and Social Mark were heavily backed. Samaritan and Sunloch led with Samaritan and Buster next in the order. This was the position when The Dip was reached.

5.-Fox Hunters' Cup (Lightweights).

Over about two Miles of Country Finishing on the Steeplechase Course.

For a Cup, to remain the property of the winner for a year, with a replica presented; 2nd $50. For China ponies that have been twice in the country this season prior to January 15 in a Point-to-Point, a Paperhunt, or with the Somerset Drag. Catchweights at 150 lbs.

Mr. McCartney's Fanling Stag, 150 lbs. (Mr. McCartney) 1
Mr. Cave's Movanager, 150 lbs. (Mr. Cave) 2
Dr. Durran's Mowgli, 150 lbs. (Dr. Durran) 3

Also ran: Brown Eve (Mr. Worrell); Cavair (Mr. Arnold); Huntington (Dr. MacGown); King's Parade (Mr. Churchill); Lightning (Mr. Patten); Marco Polo (Mr. Braine-Hartnell); and Sheila (Mr. Bulteel).

NEW HARBOURS IN THE NORTH.

Work on the construction and expansion of Hulutao, an island near the Gulf of Liaoting, into a modern commercial centre, will be started next month, according to a plan drawn up by the Northeastern Communications Committee at Harbin.

The completion of the proposed construction works, it is expected, will greatly facilitate shipping and export of the special products of Manchuria and Mongolia.

The Committee is also understood to be considering the development of the harbour of Newchwang and the building of wharves, godowns and other shipping facilities there. Surveying of the harbour has already been started and construction is expected to be commenced in March.

A motor-road of about 100 miles in length connecting Heiho, on the northeastern Heilungkiang border, and Nunkiang, an important city east of Teitsihar, was recently completed by the Heilungkiang Provincial Department of Reconstruction and will shortly be opened to traffic.

NEW DUTCH BORNEO OLD-FIELD.

GUSHER YIELDING HUNDRED TONS A DAY.

Interviewed during a recent trip to Java, Mr. D. van Nymegen Schoonegevel, manager of the Bataafsche Petroleum Maatschappij at Tarakan, Dutch East Borneo, stated that his company had for the first time struck oil on the concession of the Netherlands Indies Petroleum Company on the island of Boenjo, off the north-east coast of Dutch Borneo.

This concession was granted some time ago to the Netherlands Indies Petroleum Company, in which concern both the local Government and the Royal Dutch have equal interests. The exploitation of the area is, however, entrusted to the latter, as in the case of the concession in Djambi.

About six months ago drilling operations were started in Boenjo, and oil was first struck in October of last year at a depth of 550 metres. The production is estimated at approximately 100 tons crude petroleum daily, and the oil is said to be of a lighter paraffin base than that produced on Tarakan. The gusher was temporarily closed at the time the well was drilled, as storage tanks were then not available. The well in question is considered to be a good one and not, as very often is the case, a "dud" which yields oil for only a few days or weeks and then fizzles out.

Road to the Coast.

Preparations are being made for the construction of a 7½ kilometre roadway suitable for heavy motor (10-ton) traffic, leading from the oil field to a suitable shipping point on the coast, where again a landing stage will be erected for the loading and discharging of cargo.

Great difficulty is at present being experienced with regard to the transportation of material to the oil field, the present shipping centre on the Soengli Boenja (Crocodile River) being both inadequate in its facilities and unsuitable in its location. This small river is navigable only once a fortnight during high tide, and by native craft alone.

Arrangements are being made to introduce the most modern appointments in Boenjo.

STABBED ON DECK.

DEMENTED MAN SUSPECTED OF SHIPBOARD CRIME.

The mysterious murder of a young Chinese on the high seas is now puzzling the Singapore police and the officers of the ship itself.

The night was quiet, not a sound was heard and no one saw anything, but a man was found lying on the deck with a ghastly wound in his stomach.

The ship's doctor was called, but the man passed away in an hour's time. The body was brought into Singapore.

The steamer, the Michael Jensen, anchored in the Singapore roads last week and the Marine Police were communicated with. Inspector Haxworth boarded the vessel and caused the body to be removed to the hospital.

The whole affair is shrouded in mystery, says the Straits Times. The Michael Jensen sailed from Swatow with about 300 Chinese deck passengers. The vessel was bound for Bangkok via Singapore.

Unavailing Search.
After a few days at sea a Chinese passenger who appeared to be mentally defective, was noticed and a Chinese member of the crew was detailed to keep the man under observation. The passenger was not violent but demeaned the loss of his young wife, who had been killed by Communists in China. He appeared quite distracted.

On the night of January 20, when the Michael Jensen was about 100 miles from Singapore, the man detailed to watch the crazy man left his charge for a few minutes and when he returned he found no signs of him.

Instead he found a Chinese passenger lying on the aft deck bleeding from a wound in the stomach. The man was unable to make a coherent statement and could only say that he did not know who stabbed him.

A search of the ship was made for the crazy man without result, and it is believed that he jumped overboard.

DUTCH VIEW OF RUBBER SCHEMES.

NOT TAKING THE LEAD.

A QUESTION PRIMARILY FOR PRODUCERS.

BATAVIA, Jan. 24.
The Government of the Dutch East Indies has answered the request of a section of the People's Council to state its attitude towards rubber restriction.

The Government declares that it is in principle agreeable to eventual restriction of rubber output for the purpose of reaching better prices, provided that restriction is based on voluntary co-operation and is given a purely private character.

The Government has not taken an active part in this important problem because it primarily affects the producers of the interested countries. Thus Government action would give the question an undesirable political character.

Furthermore, the Government so far sees no acceptable satisfactory solution which could be recommended to the interested parties in the Netherlands Indies.

The Government will naturally pay every attention to eventual proposals from the producers' side, but does not consider it advisable to take the lead in negotiations.

The Government is also convinced of the necessity of the eventual proposals being based on a normal period in the past.

A similar question regarding tin restriction will be answered by the Government later.—Straits Times.

CHILD LABOUR IN THE STRAITS.

TWELVE-YEAR LIMIT FOR FACTORIES.

The very slight restrictions on the employment of child labour hitherto existing in the Straits Settlements have been considerably tightened up by rules which have just been made by the Governor-in-Council under the Children Ordinances.

In future, says the Straits Times, the employment of children under 12 in any industrial undertaking will be forbidden, the age of a child being computed according to the European method of calculation.

The only provisions dealing with child labour previously in force were those which forbade the employment of any person under 16 in the attendance or management of machinery, the employment of Indian children under the age of 10, and the employment of female domestic servants under the age of 10.

Scope of the New Rules.
The term "industrial undertaking" in the new rules is defined as follows:

Mines, quarries and other works for extraction of minerals from the earth;
Industries in which articles are manufactured, altered, cleaned, repaired, ornamented, finished, adapted for sale, broken up or demolished;

Industries in which materials are transformed;
Shipbuilding;
Industries in which electricity or motive power of any kind is generated, transformed, or transmitted;

The construction, reconstruction, maintenance, repair, alteration, or demolition of any building, railway, harbour, dock, pier, canal, inland waterway, road, tunnel, bridge, viaduct, sewer, drain, well, telegraphic or telephonic installation, electrical undertaking, gas work, water work, or other work of construction, including the preparation for or laying the foundations of any work or structure;

Transport of passengers or goods by road or rail or inland waterway, including the handling of goods at docks, quays and wharves, but not including transport by hand.

A QUEEN'S SCHOLAR EXPLAINS.

WHY DR. WU LIEN TEH LEFT MALAYA.

Interesting observations on the subject of Queen's Scholarships were made by Dr. Wu Lien Teh, a former Queen's Scholar and now director of the Manchurian Plague Prevention Service, in a lecture at the College of Medicine in Singapore recently.

"In this matter of Queen's Scholarships you will be interested to hear that I had the pleasure of some connection with the founder of the Queen's Scholarships, Sir Clementi Smith, some years ago," Dr. Wu said. "We sat as delegates of our Governments at the Hague Conference in 1911 at Geneva. He had in his mind the value of the Queen's Scholarships, not only to the winners of the Scholarships, but also of the influence that might result from their future connection with their own people."

Promoting Friendship.

"In other words, he said he hoped the institution of the Scholarships might make Queen's Scholars themselves act as a sort of liaison between their people outside and the people inside. If you are Chinese, Queen's Scholars you will be able at some future time to go back to the country of your origin and help those people to be more closely associated with the people of the British Empire. I thought that was a very grand ideal and I feel that those who have had the fortune to gain a Scholarship should try to emulate it."

"In my little way I have tried to promote the friendship of our people and the British people," Dr. Wu continued, "because I feel we would do much better than either the purely China-born Chinese, or the English people, knowing what the aspirations and needs of the Chinese people are. We have mixed amongst the best English thinkers and have imbibed their outlook and sympathy, even their democratic outlook on life, and we can do a great deal of good amongst our people."

Health Work in China.

Dr. Wu, whose lecture was entitled "Progress of Health Work in the Orient," gave a rapid survey of the history of the medical profession in China. Prior to 1911, he said, he did practically nothing for three years. He had won a Queen's Scholarship, in Malaya, and had continued his studies at Cambridge and in Europe. He joined the Chinese medical force, but his own people considered him a stranger—his ideas were too British for his thoughts too European. However, in 1911, a serious plague broke out in Manchuria. It was a critical period because Russia and Japan were fighting for their rights, and China for her very existence. There were no well-trained Chinese doctors such as there were in the Russian and Japanese armies.

China's Modern Doctors.

This was the beginning of the rise of the medical profession in China. The then Imperial Government recognized their importance, and their superiority over the old-fashioned doctors. They were granted many privileges, and eventually influenced the authorities to establish modern hospitals and adopt preventive measures for combating diseases. Thus they established the Manchurian Plague Prevention Service, and extensive research work was carried out.

PACIFIC AIR LINE.

CALIFORNIA TO MANILA.

Active co-operation of steamship, airplane and financial interests in the first all-American Zepplin airship line is seen in the list of additional directors of the Pacific Zepplin Transport Company, published by P. W. Litchfield, Chairman of the Board.

The great American-owned steamship lines plying the Pacific are represented by Stanley Dollar, of the Dollar Lines, San Francisco; Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, and head of the Los Angeles a.s. Co.; W. P. Roth, San Francisco, President of the Matsun Navigation Co., and Edward P. Farley of the American Hawaiian a.s. Co.

The airplane industry is represented by F. B. Rentschler, President of the United Aircraft & Transport Corp.; G. B. Grosvenor, President of the Aviation Corporation and Col. E. A. Deeds. To these are added also C. H. Cooke, of the Bank of Hawaii, J. R. Galt of the Hawaiian Trust Co., and Walter Dillingham, representing the business interests of Honolulu; Herbert Fleischacker of the Anglo & London Paris Bank; K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Co. of California and H. Quinlivan, attorney, of Los Angeles. Three New York financial houses took places on the directorate at the organization meeting at New York.

Manila in Four Days!

It is understood the new company contemplates the establishment of an airship line between the Pacific Coast and the Orient with initial operations to Hawaii until more ships are available. Airships of 6,500,000 cubic-foot capacity, following the design of the Navy ships now being built by the Goodyear-Zepplin Corp. at Akron are contemplated for this service. The airships would make the run between the mainland and Hawaii in a day and a half and four and a half days to Manila.

The men engaged in other lines of transportation have been far-sighted enough to see that there is no competition between the airship and the steamship, and the airplane and the airplane. "Each has its place. Faster transport of business men and business between America and the Orient will develop more business, more shipping, more commerce for the present carriers. The whole history of transportation shows this to be true. Likewise the railway and the airplane will bring out-going passengers and mail to the airship terminal, and will distribute incoming merchandise and passengers from the point of landing."

Since 1915 progress had been rapid, and the difficulty in effecting harmony between students who brought back different ideas gained in the various countries in which they had studied was now in process of being solved by the establishment of a post-graduate school. A million dollars had been provided by the Ministry of Finance, and attempts were to be made to obtain a further $2,000,000 from other sources, and building operations would begin this spring.

Dr. Wu referred to the extensive research work that was being carried out in the Philippines, and said that the authorities there expected to be able to make some startling disclosures shortly as a result of their researches into leprosy and malaria.

SHANGHAI-HANKOW AIR MAIL.

FORCED DOWN BY SNOW STORM.

The China National Aviation Corporation's Shanghai to Hankow aeroplane was again forced down near here on January 28 by a blinding snow storm states the Nanking Daily News. The plane had passed the city when the pilot, Mr. E. F. Hayden, saw that it was useless to try to make Kiukiang. He therefore turned back and landed on the river close to the Chinese gun-boat, Chu Tai.

Captain Yu of the gun-boat made them very welcome and sent the pilot, mechanic and a foreign passenger with an escort to the mission hospital, where they spent the night in the home of one of the staff.

There were three other passengers, Chinese, who spent the night on the Chu Tai, going on this morning by steamer, one to Hankow and two to Shanghai.

The three foreigners on the plane went out to the gun boat this morning, where they were again made comfortable by Capt. Yu. He also wireless to Kiukiang to find out the state of the weather there for Pilot Hayden, who did not care to start until he knew that conditions were favourable. A reply was received about eleven and they were able to get away by twelve.

Just after they were out of sight, today's plane came in from Shanghai and landing on the water, went up to the Chu Tai to get news of the other plane. Finding that it had just left, it took off at once for Hankow.

NEW OPPOSITION FOR PRESIDENT HOOVER.

MORE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION.

[United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. President Hoover's faith in commissions as agencies for settling national problems is becoming a party issue, it became evident today.

In the course of a debate in the House of Representatives today, the President's proposal for appointing a commission on conservation and administration of the public domain met with the solid opposition of the Democrats.

President Hoover has already appointed the commission, but legislation is necessary to provide funds for defraying its expenses. With the opposition, unanimous against the plan, it is possible that the appointment may in effect be rendered null.

It was indicated today that President Hoover will not take any personal part in the controversy concerning the controller of foreign customs in New York.

Investigation of the alleged irregularity on the part of Arthur Foran, who is said by the Anti-Saloon League to have failed to find the chairman of the Standard Oil Company of New York for smuggling champagne in from Europe, is now proceeding and President Hoover will act when he considers Mr. Foran's application for reappointment. This will come up about February 1.

Barrister at Kingston County Court: The writ was so bad that even the Lord Chancellor's name was wrong, and Kingston was described as being in Middlesex.

KIDNAPPING PLOT MISCARRIES.

POLICE SERGEANT FINED FOR ABETMENT.

An illegal attempt to compel the departure from Singapore of an elderly Chinese to China with the assistance of the police was only frustrated by the ship's captain, who refused to have the man on board without some sort of authority. As a result a Malay police sergeant with over fourteen years service found himself before Mr. C. H. G. Clarke, the District Judge, when the case against him was concluded.

The Straits Times says accused, Sergeant Hassan bin Mohamed, was charged with the abetment of wrongful confinement and with receiving an illegal gratification of $15. He claimed trial and was represented by Mr. E. E. C. Thuraisingham. Chief Court Inspector Meredith conducted the case for the Crown.

At a previous hearing a Chinese stated in evidence that he desired to send a relative to China as the man was a lunatic. He refused to go on board and witness went to the Central Station to get assistance from the police. He spoke to the sergeant, who wanted $30 but later accepted $15 and sent a constable to put the man on board. Witness said that he was under the impression that he had to pay the police for such work.

Another Chinese Chin Tow, told the District Judge that he was a sumpun coolie living at 40, Keng Cheow Street. He was in his house at 3 p.m. on October 27 last when three Chinese came to the house in a car with a Malay police constable. He knew the old man, Khe Ee Cheong, whom the men were going to take on board a ship. From Ee Cheong's behaviour witness was of the opinion that he was a lunatic. Ee Cheong and the others drove off in the car but he did not see a pair of handcuffs. The party he turned to the house later but he did not know why Ee Cheong was not put on board.

No Authority.

Evidence was next given by Ali, a Malay police constable, who stated that October 27 was a Sunday. Sergeant Hassan was in charge of the station and he himself was on duty as bicycle orderly. Three Chinese came to the station at about 2.30 in the afternoon and spoke to Hassan who directed him to accompany them. The Chinese told Hassan that they had a relative who was half mad and that they wanted him taken on board a ship bound for China that day. Hassan also ordered him to take a pair of handcuffs with him.

He accompanied the Chinese in a car to Keng Cheow Street where he saw a large crowd in front of a house. An old man was then brought before him and pointed out as the mad relative. The old man told witness that he had done nothing wrong and would not go with him. The Chinese then asked witness to handcuff him, and he had to struggle with the man before he could do so, and then only with the assistance of another constable.

The man was then put in the car and taken to Tanjong Pagar where a ship was about to sail for China. When he took the man on board he was taken before the captain who asked him if he had an order. Witness could not produce any written authority and the captain refused to have the man on board. Witness then returned with the party to Central Station and told Hassan what had transpired.

In opening the case for the defence, Mr. Thuraisingham submitted that the constable was the man against whom the charges should have been preferred and not the sergeant.

His Honour: No. He was only carrying out the orders given him by the sergeant who, I think, is guilty of abetment. There is a distinct case to answer on the first charge and also on the second although it may not be so strong.

Counsel said that even if the sergeant gave the order for the alleged lunatic to be taken on board he did not give orders for the man to be handcuffed.

Hassan bin Mohamed stated in evidence that he was 34 years of age and had served in the police force for the last fourteen years. About a year ago he was promoted to the rank of sergeant and was attached to the Central Division. On Sunday, October 27 last, he was on duty at the station for 24 hours. A lance-corporal who was also on duty was seated at a table near him in the charge room. Ali, the constable, was doing duty as bicycle orderly.

The three Chinese who had given evidence against him did not come to the station at all and he did not even know them. No one gave him $15 to put anybody on board a ship. On October 29 he was called before the A.S.P. in charge of the division and was later charged with the alleged offences of which he knew nothing. He knew Ali Sing, the detective police constable, who had given evidence against him. About a month prior to the date of the alleged offence he had had trouble with Ah Sing who had threatened to put him in trouble if he was not careful. He did not know (Continued on next Column.)

BODY IN BACK LANE.

CHINESE WHO DID WITHOUT AN UNDERTAKER.

The practice of dumping bodies in back lanes and deserted spots in order to avoid the expense of a funeral is not uncommon among working-class Chinese in Singapore, and it is frequently impossible to trace the offenders.

One man who is alleged to have got rid of the body of his cousin a few days ago, says the Straits Times, was not so fortunate.

A police inspector searched the body and came upon a letter written in Chinese in one of the pockets. Taking a clue from a sentence in the letter, the officer traced before the Second Police Magistrate with dumping a dead body and remanded.

A police patrol on rounds in the Jalan Basar area came upon the body lying in a back lane off Maude Road at about 9 o'clock and communicated with Inspector Farquharson.

It was discovered that the deceased had been suffering from acute malaria and had been taken to a dispensary in Rochom Road early that morning. Dr. Cho Tek Guan attended the sick man, gave him an injection, and told the accused to rush the patient to hospital as he was really bad.

It is presumed that the patient died on the way and was dumped in the back lane.

An inquest will be held.

What trouble Ah Sing was going to put him in.

His Honour: No. You could not have known then.

Not on Good Terms.

Continuing, Hassan said that he did not give Ali any orders to put a lunatic on board from Keng Cheow Street and it was not true that the constable came back to the station and told him about the affair.

Cross-examined by Mr. Meredith, Hassan said that the first time he saw the Chinese was when he was called before the Chief Police Officer in connection with the allegations against him. He had not known them or even seen them before that occasion. He was not on very good terms with Ali, the constable.

Mr. Meredith: Can you give any reason why all these people whom you say you did not even know before this case came up, should tell this remarkable story about coming to the station seeing you and handcuffing the old man and putting him on board and you getting the wind up—I am surprised.

And why should that poor constable come here and say that you gave him instructions? You know it is not usual for a constable to go against his superior officer? He has perhaps conspired with Ah Sing, the detective.

Now, Sergeant Hassan, is it not a usual thing for the Central Station to be quiet on a Sunday with no hawkers?—There are about two or three reports.

There is not a great deal to do—Yes, there will be, if there happens to be a murder.

His Honour: You cannot always arrange for a murder to take place on Sunday!

Saved by Good Record.

Mr. Thuraisingham addressed the Court at length and submitted that as regards the charge of wrongful confinement the only evidence produced by the prosecution was that of the police constable. The motive for the constable wanting to put it all on the sergeant was obvious and it was a case of one man's word against the other.

His Honour: It is hardly suggested that an orderly on duty will go out with a pair of handcuffs and put them on a mad man.

Counsel said that it was quite possible that the constable did all that he did off his own bat and because of a grudge put the blame on the sergeant. It would be very unsafe to convict a sergeant merely on the word of a constable. A sergeant is not always popular with the public and it was easy for any disgruntled member of the public to bring a police officer into Court on any trumped up charge.

Police officers had to be protected, counsel urged. The evidence of the constable was not corroborated and there was some doubt. Counsel submitted that the sergeant must be given every consideration and the benefit of the doubt and discharged.

His Honour: It seems to me to be definite beyond doubt and I have no hesitation in convicting him on both charges. I consider it very serious. If we have sergeants in police stations taking the law into their own hands we will have people spirited off to China or elsewhere without anybody knowing about it. What sort of a record has he!

Mr. Meredith: He has a very good police record. He joined the force in 1910 and there is only one mark against him for neglect of duty regarding keeping of records in 1929.

His Honour: On the face of the record I do not want to do what I intended to do to send him to prison without the option of a fine.

Mr. Meredith remarked that the man would lose his job and the Honour imposed a fine of $250 or four months rigorous imprisonment in default. In case of appeal, which is likely, bail in the sum of $500 was fixed.
